Allies Again Smash Suicidal Red Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy forces swarmed out of flooded ricefields close to the Cambodian border today and lost at least 276 of their men in almost suicidal assaults on two well-defended South Vietnamese frontier camps.

The two attacking forces totaled about 900 men, and in addition to nearly a third of their men, they left large numbers of rifles, machine guns, grenade launchers, radios and other equipment on the fields of battle.

The defenders reported 11 South Vietnamese killed and 100 wounded. Four American Green Beret men in one of the camps were wounded.

Coinciding with the fierce ground assaults on the camps at Thien Ngon and Phuoc Tan, west of Tay Ninh City, enemy gunners laid a savage barrage of rocket and mortar fire on the Special Forces camp at Katum, north of the provincial capital, which was the target of an attack Wednesday in which 135 of the enemy were killed.

The attacks in Tay Ninh Province and intelligence reports of other enemy forces maneuvering in the area brought massive B52 strikes. Of 10 raids by the big bombers in the past 24 hours, nine went into Tay Ninh Province and some 800 tons of bombs fell on the principal infiltration route toward Saigon, 70 miles to the southeast.

Columbia U Again Hit By Violence

NEW YORK (AP) — Violence erupted at Columbia University Thursday night following a campus rally staged by the radical Students for a Democratic Society.

The rally, attended by about 200 students and sympathizers, started as a memorial to Patrice Lumumba, leftist Congo leader slain in 1961.

It started off a march toward the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, a few blocks away, to protest the eviction of seven elderly persons from what demonstrators said was a cathedral-owned residential hotel. Cathedral spokesmen later said the cathedral is in no way connected with the hotel.

The marchers were stopped a block from the cathedral, the largest church in North America, by police. Officers seized one young man carrying a red flag. Cries of, "Let him go!" rang out, and scuffles began. Four more persons were arrested before the outbreak quieted.

President Names Newspaperman U.N. Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named Washington Post editor J. R. Wiggins, a strong supporter of his Vietnam policies, to fill in as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations in the waning weeks of his administration.

Wiggins replaces veteran diplomat George W. Ball who quit Thursday to join the campaign team of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Ball bowed out after only five months at the U.N. Wiggins is expected to serve only the four months until a new president chooses his own envoy next January.

Wiggins, 64, who rose from a job on a country weekly in Minnesota to guide The Washington Post as managing editor and editor the last two decades, is largely an unknown quantity in world affairs without previous experience in foreign diplomacy. But Johnson praised his judgment, his understanding and his human compassion.

Biafra Chief Says War Just Begun

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Encircled Biafra will fight on and its leaders will not flee to establish a government in exile, the Biafran leader, Lt. Col. C. Odu-megwu Ojukwu, said today.

Radio Biafra, monitored in Lagos despite jamming by the Nigerian government, said Ojukwu told a meeting of Biafran leaders and chiefs in Umuahia: "It is utter nonsense to say the war has come to an end. It is just beginning."

Because the federal government's forces are fighting on Biafran soil, he said, "the initiative belongs to us."

He said his forces would step up guerrilla warfare against the federal army, which has retaken about nine-tenths of the 29,000 square miles Biafra claimed when Ojukwu proclaimed Eastern Nigeria independent on May 30, 1967.

Ojukwu said his troops would continue conventional warfare as long as possible.

The Biafran Radio claimed that Ojukwu's troops had re-entered Ikot Ekpene. Since last June there has been heavy fighting for the town, about 25 miles east of Aba, and it was reported seized by federal soldiers three weeks ago.

Abrams To Trade Support Units For More Riflemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moves are under way to replace no-longer-needed rear-echelon U.S. units in Vietnam with fighting forces in an effort to strengthen combat power without exceeding the 549,000-man ceiling imposed by President Johnson.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, is reported eyeing thousands of construction troops for possible removal in a trade for fighting battalions.

This is possible because of the virtual completion of an enormous construction program in which U.S. engineers and Seabees built six new deep draft seaports, many airfields, supply complexes and other facilities over the past three years.

The swapping process first showed itself early this month

The loss of the three helicopters brought to 11 the number of choppers shot down in the past week in South Vietnam.

The Marine jet and two of the choppers were downed Thursday in support of U.S. Americal Division troops who along with fighter-bombers, gunships and artillery killed 388 North Vietnamese regulars in a three-day running battle on the coastal lowlands of Quang Tin province.

Wiggins was described by his newspaper today as "a staunch supporter of the administration's position on the Vietnam war." He retired as editor immediately upon accepting the U.N. appointment.

The new ambassador flew to Washington from his summer home in Maine to meet with Johnson at the White House Thursday night. Wiggins said, "I had a presidential commission once before—in the United States Army Air Corps. I'm accepting this one in the same spirit."

Johnson stressed that Ball was resigning because of domestic politics, not because of any break over foreign policy.

Already awaiting Wiggins on the new U.N. agenda is the annual debate over admission of Red China. And the war in Vietnam, although not a formal issue before the world body, is certain to continue to be the center of off-stage controversy.

Wiggins enters as an unknown man in world diplomacy by his own choice. "The ideal newspaperman" he said recently, "is a man who never forgets which side of the footlights he's on."

Wallace Denies Romance Tale

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Richard M. Nixon campaigned against third-party threat George C. Wallace in the South today by arguing a vote for Wallace would be a vote for Hubert H. Humphrey.

Meanwhile, Wallace headquarters in Alabama said reports of a romance between the former governor and a pretty blonde campaign worker were "false, untrue and calculated to damage" his campaign. Aides said she was dismissed last week because of her "erratic behavior."

The blonde, Miss Ja-Nee Welch, who runs an advertising agency in Indianapolis, Ind., said she had been traveling full-time with Wallace on the campaign. She said, "I wouldn't object to being the next Mrs. Wallace."

Miss Welch said the dismissal statement "does not change my feelings toward the governor. I'm still very much in love with him."

Wallace's wife, Lurleen, who was elected as his successor as governor, died earlier this year.

Cloture Vote On Fortas Bid Set Tuesday

Hansen Demands Withdrawal Of Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major blow to Abe Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice was struck today when Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen left open whether he would support him.

Dirksen said he will not vote to cut off debate on a motion to take up Fortas' nomination and told newsmen he might or might not vote for confirmation.

Dirksen was initially an outspoken supporter of President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren.

And although Dirksen voted with the majority of the Senate Judiciary Committee in approving the nomination, he said there was "a strict understanding in the committee that the vote did not bind anybody."

Word that Dirksen will not vote to put the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule into effect brought from Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the reaction that "it sure as hell will" make it more difficult to break a filibuster by opponents.

Dirksen told a newsmen that the filing of a petition to choke off the filibuster against the nomination will be delayed from today until Saturday although it already has the required 16 signatures.

An opponent of the nomination on resumption of debate today called for President Johnson to withdraw the nomination and for Fortas to resign from his present position as associate justice on the high court, which he has held since 1965.

"The stature of the court has been demeaned already by the monumentally poor judgment displayed by the President of the United States and by Justice Fortas since his ascension to a (Continued on Page 2)

Tropical Disturbance Hits Florida

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clear and occasionally crisp fall weather prevailed over almost the entire nation today while in the Southeast a tropical disturbance spilled heavy rains into southern Florida.

One to 2 inches of rain doused much of the southern half of the Sunshine State in the predawn hours as a tropical depression dawdled in the Gulf of Mexico west of the lower Florida Keys. Wind gusts up to 45 miles an hour accompanied the downpours.

Tropical Storm Frances, meanwhile, continued to move away from the United States after reaching storm status late Thursday some 200 miles northwest of Bermuda.

Except for the squally weather pattern in the Southeast and a scattering of clouds in the Northeast and the Pacific Northwest, clear skies covered the remainder of the country.

Temperatures fell into the 40s and 50s from the Northwest to the eastern Great Lakes before dawn. Readings in the 30s chilled the northern Plains. International Falls, Minn., registered 36.

Local Man Buried Alive In Watt Street Tragedy

RESCUE OPERATION — Rescuers and spectators watch intently as efforts are made to free 22-year-old Richard Lee Giffen after he was buried under four feet of earth by a collapsing ditch wall on E. Watt St.

Amid the tears and screams of his mother and sister, Circleville Police worked frantically to free a young man entombed in sand and gravel when a ditch on E. Watt St. caved in on him Thursday.

The youth, identified as 22-year old Richard Lee Giffen of East St., was declared dead on arrival at Berger Hospital. County Coroner Ray Carroll said cause of death was suffocation.

Giffen had been working on a sewer line when a 12-foot deep ditch collapsed burying him under four feet of earth.

A bystander said that he had been watching the young man bend over a pipe when the wall of the ditch caved in. "I don't think the kid even saw it coming," stated the bystander, who said that he only heard a muffled groan from the young man as he saw him fall to his knees under the dirt.

THE police were summoned about 3:50 p.m. and arrived on the scene to find the victim's father, Lee Giffen trying to use a backhoe to uncover his son.

Workers labored with shovels and their hands for about 30 minutes in their effort to reach Richard Giffen.

A sister, Mrs. Emma Moore, along with Giffen's mother and father, were taken to Berger Hospital and treated for shock.

Continued efforts to reach the body were also disturbed by the large body of spectators who gathered at the accident scene, and at one point nearly caved in the undermined road with their weight.

There was a sign of hope among workmen as Giffen's head was uncovered and emergency resuscitation equipment was rushed in. But (Continued on Page 2)

Mr. Universe Contest Set In Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The "most beautiful body in the universe" will be selected Saturday night when 40 glistening contestants, stripped to the waist, parade before seven judges and exhibit themselves to best advantage.

Wearing only brief, skin-tight bikini bottoms, they will be judged solely on the symmetry of their bodies. Special emphasis is placed on chest and leg development.

Such artificial devices as makeup and hairspray are strictly taboo. Only baby oil is permitted.

And only after the judges see each contestant from every angle and watch them strike a number of "classic poses" will they name "Mr. Universe of 1968."

"The contestants are judged strictly on their bodies," says Walt Framer, whose job is to stage the production. "It's like a horse show when the judges measure the forelock or the length of a tail in a dog show."

The winner will be the man with the best over-all body symmetry, not necessarily the most heavily muscled. There also will be awards for most muscled, best legs and best chest.

Summit Meet Major Part Of Thant Talk

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Support grew among lesser members of the United Nations today for a Big Four summit meeting proposed by Secretary-General U Thant in an effort to reduce East-West tensions and lessen the threat of nuclear war.

But there was no immediate reaction from the Big Four—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France—to Thant's suggestion that their foreign ministers meet during the current U.N. General Assembly to pave the way for the top-level talks.

Thant in his annual report of the assembly Thursday night accused both the United States and the Soviet Union of resorting to strong-arm methods when they felt their security threatened.

Many of the smaller U.N. member countries agreed with these words by Thant:

"In reality, the two super powers hold the master key to peace in the world. Little wars, or wars by little states, can be contained so long as the Super Powers do not pose a threat of the big, the nuclear, the ultimate war."

"In the final analysis, there can be no solid foundation for peace in the world so long as the super powers insist on taking unilateral military action whenever they claim to see a threat to their security."

Thant said the presence of U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart and French Foreign Minister Michel Debre at the assembly provided a chance for them to discuss outstanding issues. All are expected within 10 days.

The secretary-general offered to draw up a provisional agenda for the ministers and added:

"Hopefully, a meeting of the foreign ministers could lead to a meeting of the heads of state and governments of the four major powers. I feel that some such initiative is needed at the present time to counteract the serious setback to the detente in East-West relations that has resulted from recent events."

"I believe that some such special effort may also prove useful in identifying some major issues with regard to which, despite present adverse circumstances, big power agreement may be possible."

Cleveland Bank Refutes Patman

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland Trust Co. spokesman said Thursday a congressman's statement that the bank is "fostering mergers among competing companies is wholly unfounded."

The spokesman was replying to statement made by U.S. Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., who has urged the Justice Department to study recent corporate merger actions involving the bank.

Chrysler Cuts Back Price Hike

DETROIT (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. cut back Thursday on its price increases for 1969 models, bringing them into line with Ford Motor Co. and General Motors boosts.

Chrysler's increase of an average of $84 per car, which was criticized by the White House, was reduced to $52. Ford's increase averages $47 a car and GM's is $49.

It was the third consecutive year that Chrysler announced its new car prices first, then cut them back when Ford and GM came out with smaller increases.

American Motors Corp. will announce its prices for new models on Monday when its offerings will be unveiled in showrooms.

"I think it would go without saying, it wouldn't be wise for an auto company in light of the prices announced by the others, to do anything radically different," said one American Motors source.

The list prices announced by the Big Three automakers do not include federal excise taxes, dealer preparation and handling charges, state and local taxes and shipping costs.

Chrysler made no mention Thursday of prices on optional equipment which in its original price list was included in an across-the-board 2.9 per cent increase.

Nixon Opens Direct Attack On Wallace In Tennessee

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is trying to convince Southern voters they should "not go off on a third party kick" in support of a man he said can't be elected president, George C. Wallace.

In Louisville, Ky., Thursday night, Nixon broke his self-imposed rule against even mentioning Wallace's name and was expected to step up his drive against the threat that the presidential choice will be thrown into the House. If the voters want a change, Nixon said in a statement, then he is a candidate who will give it to them.

He said that from the standpoint of being elected, the former Alabama governor's candidacy is "not serious at all."

"He has no chance at all," Nixon said. "The question is whether or not he will get enough votes in the electoral college to deny a majority to me or to Mr. Humphrey."

Nixon said he thinks the voters should choose between him and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

It is vitally important, Nixon said, "that we have a two-party system in the South and it's vitally important that the whole South not go off on a third party kick and not affect the future in the decision made this year.

"I personally think," he continued, "that when you look at the South from the voters standpoint in this part of the country . . . a vote for Wallace is actually a vote for Humphrey, because one thing is for sure, Humphrey cannot win these states. I can."

Nixon said that he is campaigning hard in states like Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia and others to be sure that he has a majority of those states' electoral votes and that for a lack of them the election is

"I personally think," he continued, "that when you look at the South from the voters standpoint in this part of the country... a vote for Wallace is actually a vote for Humphrey, because one thing is for sure, Humphrey cannot win these states. I can."

Nixon said that he is campaigning hard in states like Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia and others to be sure that he has a majority of those states' electoral votes and that for a lack of them the election is (Continued on Page 14)

Nixon Opens Direct Attack On Wallace In Tennessee

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is trying to convince Southern voters they should "not go off on a third party kick" in support of a man he said can't be elected president, George C. Wallace.

In Louisville, Ky., Thursday night, Nixon broke his self-imposed rule against even mentioning Wallace's name and was expected to step up his drive against the threat that the presidential choice will be thrown into the House. If the voters want a change, Nixon said in a statement, then he is a candidate who will give it to them.

He said that from the standpoint of being elected, the former Alabama governor's candidacy is "not serious at all."

"He has no chance at all," Nixon said. "The question is whether or not he will get enough votes in the electoral college to deny a majority to me or to Mr. Humphrey."

Nixon said he thinks the voters should choose between him and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

It is vitally important, Nixon said, "that we have a two-party system in the South and it's vitally important that the whole South not go off on a third party

Columbia U Again Hit By Violence

NEW YORK (AP) — Violence erupted at Columbia University Thursday night following a campus rally staged by the radical Students for a Democratic Society.

The rally, attended by about 200 students and sympathizers, started as a memorial to Patrice Lumumba, leftist Congo leader slain in 1961.

It started off a march toward the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, a few blocks away, to protest the eviction of seven elderly persons from what demonstrators said was a cathedral-owned residential hotel. Cathedral spokesmen later said the cathedral is in no way connected with the hotel.

The marchers were stopped a block from the cathedral, the largest church in North America, by police. Officers seized one young man carrying a red flag. Cries of, "Let him go!" rang out, and scuffles began. Four more persons were arrested before the outbreak quieted.

Humphrey Continues Theme 'You Never Had It So Good'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, pressing harder than ever for televised debates with Richard M. Nixon, today promised continued prosperity if he is elected president. He accused the Republicans of "economic mismanagement."

The Democratic vice president, in a campaign speech prepared for the Portland City Club, said that "when Americans vote on prosperity I am confident they will give us a clear call for more of it."

In San Francisco Thursday, Humphrey dispatched a telegram to Nixon after reading published reports that the Republican presidential nominee had expressed a willingness to debate the vice president—a key aim of Humphrey's.

"I am designating my campaign manager, Larry O'Brien, to meet with your designated representative to work out the arrangements for what I hope will be a series of debates," the telegram said. "I trust we can have our representatives meet within the next 48 hours."

There was no indication, however, that early debates were likely.

Portugal Indifferent To Change

LISBON (AP) — Portugal's new premier made few changes in Antonio Salazar's government today, and the politically apathetic Portuguese showed no initial excitement at the replacement of the dictator who had ruled them for 40 years.

After a week of anticipation, President Americo Thomaz announced Thursday night he had appointed Marcello Caetano, 62-year-old law professor and longtime associate of Salazar, to replace the prime minister who has been in a coma since a stroke on Sept. 16.

Caetano already had given Thomaz the go-ahead to reappoint all of Salazar's Cabinet except four ministers and two undersecretaries. The few changes gave observers no clue to any changes in policy the new prime minister might have in mind.

In the memory of most Portuguese, Salazar has always kept a tight rein on politics, and a 50-year-old civil servant seemed to sum up the attitude of many: "If President Thomaz decided this way, it is because it was the only way to decide. I accept it and I hope it turns out for the best."

A 45-year-old tire factory worker expressed another widespread reaction: "If Caetano means more money, more bread, less work and less sacrifice, okay, I welcome him."

A 19-year-old Lisbon University student, opposed to the Salazar regime, said: "They changed the name but the forces running the country are the same. For me Caetano was simply the lesser of about five evils."

Patrons in cafes crowded around television sets when Thomaz made his announcement, but there was no excitement. Lisbon's movie houses, amusement parks, nightclubs and the streets were crowded as usual and apparently few if any people stayed home to hear the president.

Caetano is widely known, having been Salazar's right-hand man in the 1950s and later the strong-willed rector of Lisbon University. Typical comments being heard about him were "clever man... smart guy."

"I hear Caetano is very intelligent," said a barman. "If that's the case, why not have him in power, since the poor old man is in such bad condition?"

"This country would have been a mess without Salazar," one woman said, "but nobody lives forever."

Thomaz in his speech said even if the 79-year-old Salazar survives, "there is no hope of his being able to carry out his high duties in full again."

Caetano inherits from Salazar, tranquility, a balanced budget, a cautious approach to modernization, extreme poverty among most of the people, and a colonial war in Africa.

Per capita income still is below the $700 dividing line between developed and underdeveloped nations. But farms have begun to get tractors, illiteracy among school-age children is less than one per cent, health is improved and the escudo is among the world's strong currencies.

Censorship helps to put a brake on pressures for change, and the political police keep the political opposition in check.

Political observers look for some changes from Caetano, but only slight ones and only after he has gained a firm base of support within the armed forces. For one thing, they feel he may eventually be more liberal toward Portugal's African territories, where more than 40 per cent of the government's budget is being spent fighting nationalist guerrillas.

Caetano's new defense minister, Gen. Horacio de sa Viana Rebelo, is a former governor of one of those territories, Angola. Caetano also chose a new man to supervise press censorship, Cesar Moreira Baptista. Alfred Vaz Pinto, head of the Portuguese airline TAP and an old friend, will become Caetano's right hand as minister of state.

License Plate Stolen

License plate of a farm truck owned by Bill Carter of Route 3 was stolen Thursday, according to a report filed with the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Carter reported that he had parked the truck on County Road 511 near Tinks Tavern Wednesday evening. When he returned Thursday the rear plates of the truck had been removed.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, who covered the incident, stated that it would be investigated further and that the numbers of the plate had been released to the Ohio State Patrol.

The insect boasts three pair of jaws. Some jaws are tipped with taste buds that enable the insect to taste foods before putting them into its mouth.

seat on the Supreme Court," Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., said in a prepared speech.

"I call upon the President of the United States to withdraw the nomination of Abe Fortas to the chief justiceship of the Supreme Court," Hansen said, "and I call upon Mr. Abe Fortas to resign his seat on the Supreme Court immediately."

In another prepared speech, the leader of the fight for confirmation defended Fortas's participation in rulings on obscenity and accused his critics of distorting his role.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said efforts to brand Fortas as a purveyor of dirty movies are as "obscene and distasteful as the movies themselves."

"Some of the public may have achieved the erroneous impression that Justice Fortas has been an approving viewer of these films," Hart said. "But certainly all of the public has the more accurate impression that senators, however righteously disapproving, have been slipping into innumerable private showings."

Fortas sided with the majority in several technical rulings that reversed lower court findings that some films were obscene. Opponents have made his votes a major issue and have held viewings of the films in their bid to gather support.

Solons Okay Bridge Repair Contract

Successful low bidder on a bridge repair and channel change project on the Jefferson Westfall - Emmitt Road at Seipp Creek bridge was Wolfe and West Inc.

The Circleville based firm submitted a bid of $19,399.20, which was accepted by Pickaway County Commissioners Wayne Hines, Lloyd Melvin and Charles Morris.

Also bidding on the project was the V & Y Construction Inc., Circleville. The bid was $20,969.50.

County Engineer Henry McCrady's estimate of the cost of the project was $21,074.50.

COMMISSIONERS met in special session Thursday to open the bids and to authorize the advertisement for bids for resurfacing 2.2 miles of the Mt. Sterling-Commercial Point Road in Darby Twp. and for a channel change of a waterway along the Red Bridge-East Ringgold Road in Walnut Twp. near the Birch farm.

The bids for the two projects will be opened Oct. 14, 1968. The commissioners also approved the erection of a security door for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department with an electrically operated lock.

Tomlinson Welding has been offered the contract for the job. The firm estimated cost at $300 for the door and about $40 for the lock.

A car owned by the county and used by the Child Welfare Department was authorized to be repaired by Mack Wise. Cost of repairs was estimated at $143 by Wise.

Man Beaten, Robbed

Clyde Bates, Norfolk Ave., told Circleville police at 7:24 p.m. Thursday that he was beaten by two women and a man and robbed of $12.80 and a barlow knife.

Bates indicated he would prefer charges against the trio.

In Boston, young Negroes in the Roxbury slum section have been on a rampage of beatings, robberies and lootings that have reached into private homes.

The disorders which have brought one death, injury to 36 persons including 14 policemen and scores of arrests, began after Negro high school students were refused permission Monday to wear African native dress to classes.

Thursday a husband and wife were beaten in their home, a man was robbed of $150 in daylight on the street, and firemen were made the targets of stones and bottles.

City officials hoped to curb the disturbances with the aid of an influential segment of young people in the Negro community.

In Seattle, the city's troubled Washington Junior High School may reopen Monday with a security task force of parents and community workers.

The school had been the scene of three days of thefts, beatings and classroom terror when

Judge Dismisses Non-Support Cases
Acting Municipal Court Judge Harry Margulis dismissed two non-support cases Thursday.

Clarence Liff, Harrisburg, was charged with non support by Aileen Liff. The case was dismissed when the prosecuting witness failed to appear.

A similar charge against Elmo Leroy Purdin, Greenfield, was dismissed when the judge ruled the local court had no jurisdiction in the case since the defendant resided in another county. The charge was filed by Patricia Skeens, 1103 Washington St.

But Albert Shanker, head of the union, said only that a Monday opening was possible providing that outstanding issues in a peace settlement could be agreed on.

In New Jersey racial problems led to student boycotts at three high schools including Trenton High School where two-thirds of the students did not report to classes Thursday.

It was the fourth shutdown of the school in the last nine months. This time the trouble stemmed from a boycott by several hundred white students protesting alleged assaults by Negro students.

Pittsburgh School Supt. Bernard J. McCormick says he won't back down to threats of a band of Negro students who, he said, barged into his office Thursday and demanded curriculum changes.

In Elmira, N.Y., the high school has been temporarily closed after four days of protests and counterprotests by Negro and white pupils. The school is predominantly white.

Kenneth S. Weaver, the principal, said classes would not meet until after a student assembly Monday to discuss means of alleviating tensions over Negro student representation on class councils.

In Lawrence, Kan., about 30 Negro students who walked out of the Lawrence High School to protest alleged discrimination, have set up a school of their own and attended classes Thursday in a home. Instructors were Negro volunteers.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Friend's Father Wants A Date

DEAR ABBY: Recently, I was the houseguest of a sorority sister in another state. Her father is a very good-looking, gray-haired man with a lovely smile and a tremendous personality. While I was there, he told me that he travels for business reasons, and if I wanted to have a good time I should meet him someplace. At first I thought he was joking, but soon enough, by other things he said and did, I knew he wasn't. I just laughed, pretending not to take him seriously, and I stayed away from him as much as possible.

Michael Fish Sets Up U.S., 'Fish Bowls' For Fashion

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—"When they met at a party wearing the same shirts they were simply 'furious,'" said Michael Fish of two of London's arch style rivals, the Duke of Bedford and Lord Montague of Beaulieu.

To compound matters, Fish, who had made their shirts, was also at the party in the identical ruffly silk design. Since then he has learned to be more careful.

So have the gentry who swarm to his London shop to buy the dandiest duds since Beau Brummel. To guarantee theirs will be the only shirt of its kind, they buy the remainder of the fabric.

In America, fashion-consciousness among men has not yet reached this level of competition, but the lean young man from Piccadilly plans to hasten the day.

He is here briefly to set up fish bowls, or men's boutiques, in department stores where his colorful, broad-lapel suits, fancy shirts and kipper ties will be displayed.

In London no one crooks a neck at the slouched six-footer with flinty blue eyes, angular face and bronze hair that curls around his ears and nape of his neck. Yet, Fish said, glancing at his burnt-orange suit worn with a matching embroidered silk turtle-necked shirt, "People stare at me in New York."

Actually older men wear some avant garde garments better than the young, Fish says, although American men in the over-50 age group are discouragingly reluctant.

While I was there, he told me that he travels for business reasons, and if I wanted to have a good time I should meet him someplace. At first I thought he was joking, but soon enough, by other things he said and did, I knew he wasn't. I just laughed, pretending not to take him seriously, and I stayed away from him as much as possible.

Now that I am home, he has called me twice long distance, wanting to know if we can arrange a meeting. What am I going to do? I am 19 and don't want to get involved with this old married man. He says he likes my mature mind and that he wouldn't do anything I didn't want to do. Please help me.

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: If he calls again, tell him that your MATURE mind is made up and if he ever calls again, you will tell your parents and his daughter. That should cool him off.

DEAR ABBY: I am supposed to be married early this fall, but I'm not sure I can go thru with it now. Recently John (my fiancé) introduced me to Roy, who is going to be best man at our wedding, and the more I see of Roy the more attracted I am to him.

Abby, I'm so mixed up I need some good sound advice from a wise outsider. Should I hope this "thing" about Roy will pass? Or should I break off with John? I could never tell John the real reason, but I get the shakes thinking about getting married to one man, and feeling this way about another.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED: A girl could be making the mistake of her life to marry a man while she can still be "attracted" to another. This is a clear warning signal, meaning you aren't ready for marriage yet. Tell John you want to think about marriage a while longer. And keep thinking about it until NOBODY looks as good to you as the man you're going to marry.

DEAR ABBY: There is a very attractive middle-aged married woman in town whose husband is away a lot. This woman is frequently seen in the company of two very good-looking eligible gentlemen. The three of them are always together, and they seem to be having a very good time.

The problem: Nobody can figure out which one is the "beard."

CURIOUS

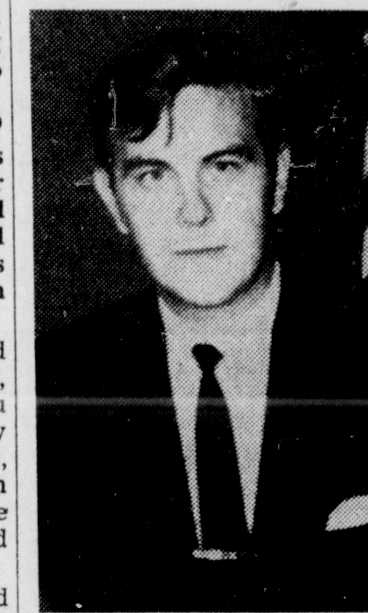

DEAR CURIOUS: Maybe it's the woman.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — "If the guys down there in Wall Street are looking at bulls and bears all day," said the motivational psychologist, "why shouldn't they want to look at a pretty girl for a change? What's so unusual about that?"

Since this was little help in understanding why 10,000 clerks, bankers and brokers jammed Wall and Broad streets last week to view Francine Gottfried, who measures 43-25-37, the answer was sought in Wall Street itself.

The effort seemed to make sense because there are more analysts there than in Vienna, and though they aren't the "psycho" kind, they do spend their time analyzing aberrations and stocks and mass psychology.

Why did Wall Street go wild to see Francine, a 21-year-old computer attendant, emerge from the Brooklyn subway each day at 1:30 p.m.? The question was put to a dozen men in the area.

"They were just letting off steam," a New York Stock Exchange man said. "This has been a busy year, there's been lots of tension and people here are in high key. They're all geared up."

Said another man, "This is the way the Street works. Look, the news spread like a stock tip: the word was passed by phone, the figures were exaggerated—you know, we were told she was a 48—and almost everyone found out that hundreds were in on the news before they were."

The same thing happened on a much smaller scale a couple of years ago, he said, when a lot of clerks sought inspiration for the day in ogling a pretty girl at her 9:45 coffee break at Broad and Beaver, before heading on to their jobs.

Observed a man whose office overlooks Broad and Wall, where the crowds gathered, "It was a pleasant, friendly crowd. They were just having fun. Nobody was down there hating or picketing or even angry."

From his vantage point he estimated that the crowd exceeded that for the celebration last year of the Exchange's 175th anniversary, but Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor John V. Lindsay were the type of attraction then. Despite the recent outburst, most Wall Street hands who were queried felt that the street is becoming more staid.

The atmosphere now is a bit more businesslike and, although almost all male, has a little less of the locker room aura. But when volume falls, which is rarely, the old hands might still torment a new broker.

The novice is likely to find 20 brokers gathered about a post bidding up the price of a stock furiously. It's a fake stock but he doesn't know it, especially when a conspirator calls with an order for 1,000 shares at $35.

The newcomer runs to the post but finds himself blocked. He tries to shout his order but is ignored. He gets mauled and bumped and elbowed, and he never gets his stock, which soars to $40, $41, $41.25 as he grows faint.

Hopefully, some of this information may help in understanding Miss Gottfried's rousing reception. If it doesn't, then try to find comfort in realizing that the Securities and Exchange Commission is just as perplexed about broker behavior.

THEY'RE still chuckling in one Westchester junior high school over the day the principal heard an uproar in one room, and charging in, found a crewcut youth shouting at the top of his lungs and dancing down the aisle. He marched the offender off to his office and ordered him to stand in a corner until excused. The principal then returned to the classroom, delivered an inspiring lecture on discipline, and concluded by asking if there were any questions. "Yes," volunteered one student. "When are you going to let our teacher come back in the room?"

Guests invited to appear on the Ed Sullivan Sunday evening TV show usually are tickled pink and appear prompt and early for rehearsals. But one guest never showed up at all. Her name was Baby Opal, and she was a performing elephant. Someone suggested that she had plumb forgotten to come, elephants' memories being what they are. Authorities were baffled, claiming "We've never lost an elephant before."

Opal turned up a week later. She had been shipped to a circus in South Carolina by mistake.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

We are concerned because our nine-year-old boy is the smallest in the class. He is beginning to be embarrassed because most of the children are at least two inches taller than he is. Our other children are normal in size and we wonder whether or not we have done anything wrong during his early years to account for his small stature.

Dear Mr. O.: Let me assure you that you and your wife must not chastise yourself or feel guilty or responsible for this condition in your young boy. Obviously the other children in the family have grown normally on the same diet and regime you use for the family.

Occasionally the growth pattern varies in members of the same family, living under the same circumstances. As you know, in the first year of life there is a rapid growth of all organs of the body. Then the growth follows a slower pattern until puberty at which time, in early adolescence, another active spurt occurs.

All children vary in their hereditary makeup even though they have the same parental background. If there is no physical deficiency that interferes with your child's growth there should be no great concern about it. Everyone has noticed that intellectual variations occur in the same way as does physical growth in the same family.

It is true that some diets are deficient in vitamin content and minerals and can affect the growth of children. In impoverished countries where scurvy, rickets, beriberi and pellagra flourish, the growth of children can be permanently impaired. Obviously, this does not hold true in your family. Chronic disease of the lungs, heart, kidneys and intestinal tract can also affect normal growth. This, too, I am certain, has been checked out with your son.

Hormones play a most active role in the growth of a child when there is no physical illness. There is a close relationship between the secretion of the pituitary gland, the thyroid gland, the adrenal gland and the testes. All work in combination with each other to produce normal progress and growth of all body organs. Some parents delay seeking the advice of a gland specialist or endocrinologist, expectantly waiting for the day when the child will "shoot up" of his own accord. This may well happen even without the guidance of such a specialist. However, it is much more logical that parents of undersized children should seek such highly specialized opinion early, rather than to wait until the growth pattern is fixed and unalterable.

The psychological reaction of undersized children can be very distressing. He may feel embarrassed and alone and pay a great penalty for that which might have been rectified.

When, after thorough study of the endocrine or hormone system, it is found there is a deficiency of one or more hormones, these can be replenished. It is often surprising to see a new and rapid rate of growth after continued use of hormones by mouth or injection.

It may well be that your child will outgrow this condition, but it will do him far greater justice if you were to embark on these special studies and know for certain if just waiting, or treatment with hormones, is the ideal approach. Your guilt will be far greater if you delay too long in remedying a condition which may respond to modern treatments.

Don't be impatient with nurses and aids in hospitals. They, too, are burdened and do far better with patience and civility.

Dear Editor:

I am sure many of you have heard the name Ford Philpot mentioned lately but I also know many have not.

He is considered by many to be the 2nd leading evangelist in the U.S. (Billy Graham being the leading one.)

Ford Philpot and his team will be in Circleville Nov. 13-24 at the Fairgrounds Coliseum to conduct an Evangelistic Crusade. I feel our county is very fortunate to have them here and I am thankful that someone saw the need for a spiritual awakening in our community.

I am writing this letter to ask all those who will start praying for this crusade so that many souls may be added to the Kingdom. Many of you are shut ins and can no longer get out and serve or witness for our Lord but you can help by praying for it.

Singers, ushers and counselors are needed. The Crusade office is located in the former Beaver Photo Studio so if any of you would like to participate in any of these services, please contact them at the office — Spiritual Preparation Rallies are being held every Monday and Tuesday night at 7:30 for seven weeks. Monday at Williamsport Methodist Church; Tuesday at Circleville Church of the Nazarene. Everyone is invited to attend these.

Let's all support this crusade in any way we can. Thank you and may God bless each of you richly as you serve Him.

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

The Swedish Election

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

STOCKHOLM — There is an Alice in Wonderland flavor to European politics. In the recent Swedish election campaign, the three "bourgeois" parties — the Conservatives, the Center (or Farmers') Party, and the Liberals — all mounted an attack on the Communists, who had helped the Social Democrats govern over the years by giving them tacit Communist support.

There was a reaction against Communism in Sweden, all right; the Czechoslovak crisis saw to that. But when the election day dust had cleared, it became apparent that the "bourgeois" parties had not benefited. There was a big displacement of the old Communists: vote to the Social Democrats.

This, combined with a crisis-induced drift of "bourgeois" voters from the Liberal Party into Social Democratic ranks, gave Tage Erlander, who has been Sweden's socialist prime minister for more than twenty years, a big anti-Communist victory.

So the Czechoslovakian crisis, far from producing a rightist reaction in Sweden, worked to preserve the socialist status quo which local Communists had always supported.

The "bourgeois coalition," naturally, is a bit mystified at the workings of the popular mind. But there should be no mystery about it: a single party can usually beat the diffused efforts of three parties, provided there is no overwhelming campaign issue.

As far as the casual visitor can discover, there is no great difference between the Social Democratic and the "bourgeois" attitudes in Sweden. The country is for "neutrality," and there seems to be an almost universal schizophrenia about Communist expansion. The Swedes don't like it when Moscow sends tanks into Czechoslovakia; on the other hand, they don't particularly object to Communist infiltration of far-off South Vietnam. Since the invasion of Czechoslovakia and Soviet support of the movement of North Vietnamese Communists into South Vietnam are parts of a unified Moscow approach to forcing Communism on the world, the visitor can't fathom Swedish logic. But the visitor can understand the Swedish emotions: a nation that has saved itself by adhering to strict neutrality during two world wars has an understandable fear of any and all big power armaments. Soviet tanks in Czechoslovakia and U.S. Bombers over North Vietnam are used for entirely different ends, but they are alike in being visible symbols of the sort of power which the neutral Swedes abhor.

Having voted for peace and the economic status quo, the Swedes might reasonably look forward to more of what they have had for thirty-five years under Social Democratic rule. They have had a business prosperity which has yielded the taxes needed for socialist welfare. But there is a pervasive fear, among the "bourgeois coalition" politicians, that the Social Democrats may interpret their big victory (a clear majority in both houses of parliament) as a mandate for more government ownership and control of everything.

Yngve Holmberg, the lawyer who heads the Conservative Party, says he isn't too much worried about the behavior of the Social Democrats during the next year. Tage Erlander will still be functioning as Premier, and he has his long-established understandings with the heads of Swedish enterprise who compete on the world market to earn the money that is needed to pay the cost of Sweden's State Welfareism. But Erlander is growing old, and in 1969 Sweden may have a new Social Democratic Premier. There are three aspirants to the job: Olof Palme, the Minister of Education who was once Erlander's secretary; Krister Wickman, Minister of Economics, and Gunna Strang, Finance Minister. The Conservatives fear Palme in particular, for he is a genuine radical.

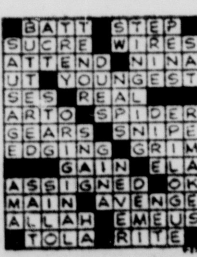

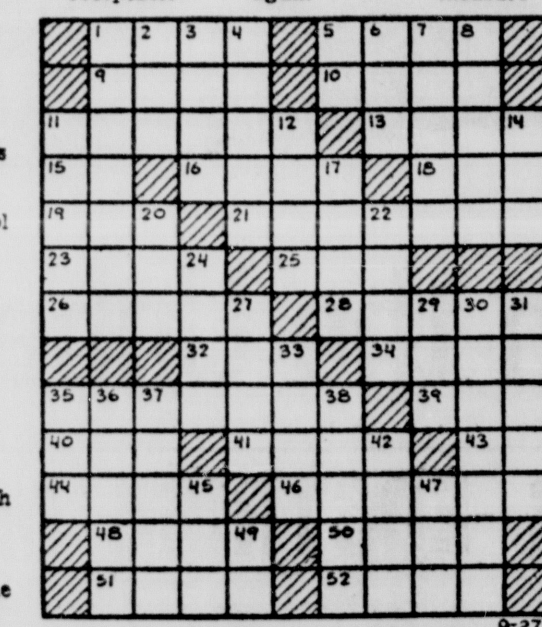

It wouldn't take "nationalization" by vote to put Sweden on a truly radical course. Immense funds accrue to the State every year through taxation for social security. This money could be put to use in purchasing shares in Swedish industry as they come on the market. Merely by investing the funds entrusted to it, the State could come to dominate industry. The question then would be whether the State, which is never very efficient anywhere, could keep industry sufficiently profitable to pay the welfare bills.

There will be another Swedish election in two years. The "bourgeois parties" have had a lesson: to be effective, they must discover a common cause capable of uniting them as the Leftists are united in the Social Democratic Party.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — "If the guys down there in Wall Street are looking at bulls and bears all day," said the motivational psychologist, "why shouldn't they want to look at a pretty girl for a change? What's so unusual about that?"

Since this was little help in understanding why 10,000 clerks, bankers and brokers jammed Wall and Broad streets last week to view Francine Gottfried, who measures 43-25-37, the answer was sought in Wall Street itself.

The effort seemed to make sense because there are more analysts there than in Vienna, and though they aren't the "psycho" kind, they do spend their time analyzing aberrations and stocks and mass psychology.

Why did Wall Street go wild to see Francine, a 21-year-old computer attendant, emerge from the Brooklyn subway each day at 1:30 p.m.? The question was put to a dozen men in the area.

"They were just letting off steam," a New York Stock Exchange man said. "This has been a busy year, there's been lots of tension and people here are in high key. They're all geared up."

Said another man, "This is the way the Street works. Look, the news spread like a stock tip: the word was passed by phone, the figures were exaggerated—you know, we were told she was a 48—and almost everyone found out that hundreds were in on the news before they were."

The same thing happened on a much smaller scale a couple of years ago, he said, when a lot of clerks sought inspiration for the day in ogling a pretty girl at her 9:45 coffee break at Broad and Beaver, before heading on to their jobs.

Observed a man whose office overlooks Broad and Wall, where the crowds gathered, "It was a pleasant, friendly crowd. They were just having fun. Nobody was down there hating or picketing or even angry."

From his vantage point he estimated that the crowd exceeded that for the celebration last year of the Exchange's 175th anniversary, but Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor John V. Lindsay were the type of attraction then. Despite the recent outburst, most Wall Street hands who were queried felt that the street is becoming more staid.

The atmosphere now is a bit more businesslike and, although almost all male, has a little less of the locker room aura. But when volume falls, which is rarely, the old hands might still torment a new broker.

The novice is likely to find 20 brokers gathered about a post bidding up the price of a stock furiously. It's a fake stock but he doesn't know it, especially when a conspirator calls with an order for 1,000 shares at $35.

The newcomer runs to the post but finds himself blocked. He tries to shout his order but is ignored. He gets mauled and bumped and elbowed, and he never gets his stock, which soars to $40, $41, $41.25 as he grows faint.

Hopefully, some of this information may help in understanding Miss Gottfried's rousing reception. If it doesn't, then try to find comfort in realizing that the Securities and Exchange Commission is just as perplexed about broker behavior.

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

STOCKHOLM — There is an Alice in Wonderland flavor to European politics. In the recent Swedish election campaign, the three "bourgeois" parties — the Conservatives, the Center (or Farmers') Party, and the Liberals — all mounted an attack on the Communists, who had helped the Social Democrats govern over the years by giving them tacit Communist support.

There was a reaction against Communism in Sweden, all right; the Czechoslovak crisis saw to that. But when the election day dust had cleared, it became apparent that the "bourgeois" parties had not benefited. There was a big displacement of the old Communist vote to the Social Democrats.

This, combined with a crisis-induced drift of "bourgeois" voters from the Liberal Party into Social Democratic ranks, gave Tage Erlander, who has been Sweden's socialist prime minister for more than twenty years, a big anti-Communist victory.

So the Czechoslovakian crisis, far from producing a rightist reaction in Sweden, worked to preserve the socialist status quo which local Communists had always supported.

The "bourgeois coalition," naturally, is a bit mystified at the workings of the popular mind. But there should be no mystery about it: a single party can usually beat the diffused efforts of three parties, provided there is no overwhelming campaign issue.

As far as the casual visitor can discover, there is no great difference between the Social Democratic and the "bourgeois" attitudes in Sweden. The country is for "neutrality," and there seems to be an almost universal schizophrenia about Communist expansion. The Swedes don't like it when Moscow sends tanks into Czechoslovakia; on the other hand, they don't particularly object to Communist infiltration of far-off South Vietnam. Since the invasion of Czechoslovakia and Soviet support of the movement of North Vietnamese Communists into South Vietnam are parts of a unified Moscow approach to forcing Communism on the world, the visitor can't fathom Swedish logic. But the visitor can understand the Swedish emotions: a nation that has saved itself by adhering to strict neutrality during two world wars has an understandable fear of any and all big power armaments. Soviet tanks in Czechoslovakia and U.S. Bombers over North Vietnam are used for entirely different ends, but they are alike in being visible symbols of the sort of power which the neutral Swedes abhor.

Having voted for peace and the economic status quo, the Swedes might reasonably look forward to more of what they have had for thirty-five years under Social Democratic rule.

They have had a business prosperity which has yielded the taxes needed for socialist welfare. But there is a pervasive fear, among the "bourgeois coalition" politicians, that the Social Democrats may interpret their big victory (a clear majority in both houses of parliament) as a mandate for more government ownership and control of everything.

Yngve Holmberg, the lawyer who heads the Conservative Party, says he isn't too much worried about the behavior of the Social Democrats during the next year. Tage Erlander will still be functioning as Premier, and he has his long-established understandings with the heads of Swedish enterprise who compete on the world market to earn the money that is needed to pay the cost of Sweden's State Welfareism. But Erlander is growing old, and in 1969 Sweden may have a new Social Democratic Premier. There are three aspirants to the job: Olof Palme, the Minister of Education who was once Erlander's secretary; Krister Wickman, Minister of Economics; and Gunna Strang, Finance Minister. The Conservatives fear Palme in particular, for he is a genuine radical.

It wouldn't take "nationalization" by vote to put Sweden on a truly radical course. Immense funds accrue to the State every year through taxation for social security. This money could be put to use in purchasing shares in Swedish industry as they come on the market. Merely by investing the funds entrusted to it, the State could come to dominate industry. The question then would be whether the State, which is never very efficient anywhere, could keep industry sufficiently profitable to pay the welfare bills.

There will be another Swedish election in two years. The "bourgeois parties" have had a lesson: to be effective, they must discover a common cause capable of uniting them as the Leftists are united in the Social Democratic Party.

Heart Patient Is Welcomed Back Home

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A band played, the sun shone and some 300 neighbors cheered loudly when the world's 40th heart transplant patient, Dellett Howard Lawson, arrived home from the hospital Thursday.

Lawson, 50, received the heart of a 25-year-old Arkansas woman during a 2½ hour operation at the Cleveland Clinic Sept. 4.

The donor, Mrs. Barbara Smith, was fatally injured in a truck accident near Cleveland.

"I just didn't know whether my heart would give up on me, or whether I would give up on it," Lawson said. "I'm just one guy who got sick and got well again."

Friends living near the Lawson home had arranged an impressive welcome for the former freight checker with an Akron trucking firm.

There was a red carpet stretched from the curb to the front door and a sign on the house read: "Thank God." A high school band played "When the Saints Go Marching In," and to keep the crowds under control there was a special police escort.

Briton Says Soviets Prowl Off Coasts

LONDON (AP)—A member of Parliament said today Soviet submarines and ships are stepping up activity around Britain in a drive to outflank the Atlantic alliance's land defenses.

Desmond I. Donnelly accused the government of ignoring the threat and scrapping British sea power to placate leftists.

"In the long history of national follies, there are few parallels to what is happening now to Britain's armed forces," said Donnelly, rebel Labor member from Pembroke. "A highly sophisticated group of Kremlin agents could not do a more effective job."

"During this past month, Soviet submarines and other vessels have been active all around Britain's coast, including the western approaches where my constituency is located," he said.

The Defense Ministry declined to comment but North Atlantic Treaty Organization commanders have reported close Soviet shadowing of allied ships in the Silver Tower exercise, which ends in the North Atlantic Friday. Some parts of the exercise were carried out off the western approaches to Britain.

The increased Soviet naval presence in the Mediterranean is not the end of Moscow's efforts to make its sea power felt in the world, Donnelly said.

"The Russians now have 25 cruisers, 100 destroyers and 100 frigates, and over 380 submarines, including 55 that are nuclear-powered," he added, and are building more aircraft carriers and developing a marine commando force at the same time Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Defense Minister Denis Healey "are disbanding our fleet air arm to placate the left wing."

Muskie Sets Cleveland Visit Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Democratic vice presidential nominee Edmund S. Muskie comes to Cleveland today for a 19-hour visit.

One of the main items on Muskie's program is a meeting with supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy who have so far refused to endorse Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's presidential campaign. Muskie will be met at Cleveland's Burke Lakefront airport by Mayor Carl B. Stokes and Democratic Senatorial candidate John J. Gilligan.

After an airport rally he will tape a television interview before going to the Hotel Sheraton, Cleveland where he will address the Polish American Congress.

In the evening the Maine senator will attend a reception for Gilligan and host a meeting of about 500 civic, labor and ethnic leaders.

He will tour Cleveland's model cities program area Saturday before leaving about 10 a.m.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient, was discharged Thursday from Groote Schuur Hospital, where he received his new heart Jan. 2.

The 59-year-old retired dentist was the third person to undergo such an operation.

He was discharged from the hospital March 16 but readmitted two months later because of liver and lung complications.

Southern Baptists Eye Segregation

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Southern Baptists, the nation's largest body of Protestants, are moving toward deeper involvement in contemporary social problems, including a drive against racial barriers, a field from which they long stood aloof.

"As long as Negroes are not truly welcome in the fellowship of our churches, our witness to the world cannot be strong," declares a recent denominational study booklet, urging full acceptance of all believers, Negro and white.

The new emphasis, along with other simmering issues, will hit the home scene in meetings of local associations and state conventions across the country this fall, bringing out their response to it.

"Southern Baptists are beginning to see with increasing clarity that they need not and must not choose between evangelism and social concern," says a long-time Christian ethics professor, the Rev. Dr. T. B. Maston, of Fort Worth, Tex. "Our decision must be both rather than either or."

Numerous other currents of change, some of them matters of sharp friction, are at work in the 11.1-million-member communion, the predominant white church influence in the South.

Church Closes During Week Due To Crime

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thefts and vandalism have led to the closing of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, about five blocks from the Capitol, except during services.

A sign at the church at 313 2nd St., SE, said Thursday: "We regret to inform you, because of thefts and vandalism in our church, St. Peter's will have to close and lock her doors at hours other than when services are being held."

The church is still accessible to parishioners through the rectory in nonservice hours.

About six years ago a congressional aide was stabbed 10 times as she prayed in St. Peter's one afternoon. She recovered. A former convict was sentenced to 20 to 40 years in prison for that crime and several other assaults.

2 Soldiers Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Spec. 4 Robert P. Kemer of Cleveland and Marine Pvt. Michael D. Armstrong of Cridersville, Auglaize County, have been killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Thursday.

Although it has battled persistently against government aid to religious institutions, as a violation of separation between church and state, many of its 54 colleges now are feeling a financial pinch, and eyeing federal help.

Some have received it, as have some Baptist hospitals, but several state conventions have ruled against taking outright federal grants, and some have state study commissions at work to bring in further recommendations on it.

But the big new swing for Southern Baptists is into social-betterment causes, which most other major denominations have regularly espoused, but which Southern Baptists generally have avoided as mixing in politics.

The past attitude often has been inconsistent, says a Vanderbilt University political science professor and lay member, Daniel R. Grant, in that it approved Church action only when "we agree on the position being taken"—such as against gambling, pornography or the liquor traffic.

But "when we have disagreed with the cause, especially when legislation to eliminate racial discrimination has been the burning issue, we have defended our silence by saying that 'the Church should keep out of politics' or 'the Church should not try to legislate morals,'" he told a recent meeting.

That view, however, was decisively overturned at this year's Southern Baptist Convention in Houston, which called for open Church membership to all races, and launched work for equality in housing, employment and education, and to overcome the deprivations of poverty.

Alliance Police, Fire Dispute Said Settled

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Dale Walborn said late Thursday night tentative agreement has been reached ending a "sick call" strike by police and firemen.

The safety forces were expected to be back at full strength today, and the mayor said he hoped to announce final settlement following a meeting with representatives of police and firemen.

The mayor declined to disclose terms of the tentative agreement. Skeleton crews had manned the two departments since the strike started at midnight Tuesday in this city of 30,000 residents.

Police and fire department salaries currently start at $474 a month.

Heart Patient Is Welcomed Back Home

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A band played, the sun shone and some 300 neighbors cheered loudly when the world's 40th heart transplant patient, Delbert Howard Lawson, arrived home from the hospital Thursday.

Lawson, 50, received the heart of a 25-year-old Arkansas woman during a 2½ hour operation at the Cleveland Clinic Sept. 4.

The donor, Mrs. Barbara Smith, was fatally injured in a truck accident near Cleveland.

"I just didn't know whether my heart would give up on me, or whether I would give up on it," Lawson said. "I'm just one guy who got sick and got well again."

Friends living near the Lawson home had arranged an impressive welcome for the former freight checker with an Akron trucking firm.

There was a red carpet stretched from the curb to the front door and a sign on the house read: "Thank God." A high school band played "When the Saints Go Marching In," and to keep the crowds under control there was a special police escort.

discussed throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. M. D. Lorentz served as leader for the program. The entire group gave the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and sang one verse of America, after which Pastor Carl Zehner of Trinity Lutheran church gave a brief welcome. Several songs were sung by the group, including "Happy Birthday" to Miss Kitty Meade and Mrs. Minnie Heise whose birthdays are in September. Mrs. Heise was singled out for special attention since she will be 98 years old on Sunday, Sept. 29.

Mrs. Tom Downing accompanied the group for singing on the piano and also played several solo numbers. Rev. Clyde Albaugh, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, gave the group some advance information about the Ford Philpot Crusade which will be conducted at the Fairgrounds Coliseum in November.

During a brief business session, it was announced that Mrs. J. Leo Hedges has agreed to be chairman of the group but due to another commitment was unable to be present. Mrs. Lorentz will be temporary secretary. It was decided to select a name for the organization at the next meeting and members were asked to be thinking of ideas. Since no permanent meeting place arrangements have been possible, the group was invited to hold their next meeting in the basement of the Church of the Brethren, corner of Pickaway and Logan. This will be on Thursday, Oct. 24.

The names of a number of shut-ins were made available to those who indicated a willingness to call on them. They were all people who have no nearby family members to keep them from being lonely.

After repeating the Lord's Prayer, the ladies of Ruth Circle of Trinity Church served refreshments from a tea table decorated with flowers and candles. Guests were seated at tables and many acquaintances were renewed and new friendships made. Mrs. Frank Turner is chairman of Ruth Circle.

Plans were made for the Nov. 22 Bazaar to be held from 1 to 8 p.m. Members will donate cakes, pies or money. Fruit cakes will be ordered to sell during the Christmas season.

They spent time working at the County Fair in the First Aid Station, at the swimming pool with swimming lessons, staff of the Bloodmobile, Red Cross Office, YMCA, and this is the fourth summer they have helped with the Head Start Program.

Looting By Vietnamese Troops Rises Significantly

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Looting by Vietnamese troops, especially by some elite units, appears to have increased significantly in recent months, further alienating the army from those it is sworn to protect.

Since the war began Vietnamese troops have stolen chickens, pigs and other food to supplement meager field rations. Now some units spend a good part of their time in the field systematically taking anything of value from whatever homes they come across. Recently a Vietnamese marine battalion operating on the fringe of a provincial capital in strongly pro-government suburb looted the village chief's home while the official stood by helplessly. Those who have watched the Vietnamese troops in action for a number of years date the beginning of serious looting—as opposed to stealing food—to the Tet offensive, when the war moved into the cities. Troops from peasant homes got a good look at the way Vietnamese were living in urban areas and decided to raise their own standard of living a bit.

The looted village chief told a reporter in English, "They are just poor soldiers and there is nothing I can do." He put up an argument when the troops tried to take his gas mask. They finally gave it back after rendering it useless by smashing out the glass eyepieces.

Looting is as old as warfare, and some American troops in the Hue fighting during Tet did their share of "liberating" such items as liquor and transistor radios. One American adviser common soldier has always been at the bottom of the ladder here. He knows his commander is probably corrupt and even selling some of the food meant for the troops to line his own pockets. Now they figure it's their turn.

In a war where mere possession of real estate is far less important than the attitudes of the people toward their government, looting is a minus factor for a government. When soldiers in fatigues are called "green bandits," the situation is serious, a U.S. civilian adviser said.

But government soldiers are in the war until they are killed or too seriously wounded to fight again. To see the profusion of luxury goods others have amassed while they were fighting in the rice paddies is an irritant, to say the least.

Stokes Appeals For Support In Cleveland

Fears Tension Dividing City Once Again

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes appealed to Clevelanders in a television address Thursday night to help eliminate tensions and "to support the police and uphold the law."

"Once again our city is divided into separate camps," Stokes said in the first of a series of State of the City messages.

"I am concerned and deeply troubled by many mounting tensions," said Stokes. "... today in Cleveland, you can sense a widening of the breach between people who differ from one another."

He said most of the division "revolves around the explosive subject of law and order. And, it must be obvious to most of us that this is a direct result of the Glenville tragedy," he added, referring to the July 23 outbreak in which 10 persons—including three policemen—were shot to death.

"Only you can bring Cleveland back to the point it had reached before that tragic day of July 23 when a handful of sick, misguided men gave up on democracy and on you and me and struck out viciously in a more effective way than they could ever have dreamed was possible," said Stokes.

Cincy Police Nab Student With Hashish

CINCINNATI (AP) — Alert park patrolmen surprised a University student late Thursday as he labored in the rear of a closed van truck — sealing approximately $120,000 in narcotics inside a large statue of a llama, vice squad detectives said.

Patrolmen James Depenbrock and Sgt. Norbert Tiek said they investigated the rental truck parked in Mount Storm Park when they heard pounding noises coming from the rear.

They said they peered in and discovered a young man breaking open the plaster form of the South American animal and placing packets within the hole. Officers said they discovered a short while later that the packets contained what was believed to be hashish. About 65 two-pound packets were confiscated.

The youth, identified as Albert Lewis Lederer, 22, a psychology major, was charged with possession of narcotics and was being held under $2,000 bond.

The statue was in a crate inside the van, police said. The crate bore the postmark, Beirut, Lebanon, according to Vice Squad Det. Gabe Mulligan. He said the shipment weighed about 527 pounds. Also found in the van were several antique vases and two antique guns.

A native Cincinnati, Lederer is a graduate of Walnut Hills High School.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Hawaii Five-O," CBS' series that made its debut Thursday night, is a welcome addition to the network's schedule—a fast-paced, sharply produced police series with good acting and an added plus in the authentic island background.

Shot entirely in Hawaii, the series stars Jack Lord as head of a special branch of the 50th state's police force.

The first job confronting him and his two assistants was the disappearance of 10 rich widows and spinsters, traveling to the islands by boat—and alone.

Unmasking a deadly fortune hunter and his accomplice by setting up a policewoman as a clay pigeon is hardly a new plot idea, but the program unraveled the story with suspense, style and a minimum of gun play. If the rest of the shows are as good as the first one, the series should be a shoo-in.

Two British-made series had their premieres on ABC during the evening.

The first is an unimpeachable comedy called "The Ugly Girl in Town." The initial episode was busy explaining how a manly American boy suddenly found himself hailed as the latest, kindest girl fashion model in London.

The boy, played by Peter Kastner, fell in love with an English starlet about to return home after a Hollywood picture. At the same time, his roommate, a photographer, shipped some gag pictures of our hero dressed in hippie clothes to a London magazine. The editors thought it was a girl and summoned the subject who, for love, leaped at the chance to wear a wig and fake eyelashes.

The first program used up quite a few of the gags suitable for family viewing: boy in girl's clothes balks at entering a room marked "ladies"; boy has fits when another man asks him to dance, and so on.

Although the first show was fairly amusing, this has got to be a one-joke series, and a little of this can go a long way.

"Journey to the Unknown," specializing in suspense and horror, started with a truly macabre story. It was a tale about a loner, a young shoe clerk who falls in love with a wax dummy in a department store window.

He attempts to steal the mannequin he calls "Eve" when he finds that all the wax dummies are to be destroyed. Caught in the act, he tussled with a store executive who fell to his death. There were weird sequences as the young man, in the grip of his madness, tenderly carried the dummy to his furnished room, fled with it to the country and ultimately was killed trying to protect it from some thugs.

The program was sensitively and imaginatively produced. Based on a John Collier short story, it was produced by Joan Harrison, long an associate of Alfred Hitchcock, and was a very good beginning.

At a special meeting September 23, G. C. Murphy Company Common shareholders approved overwhelmingly the proposal of the Company's Board of Directors to increase authorized Common Stock, par value $1 per share, from 8,000,000 to 12,000,000 shares and to create and authorize 3,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, par value $50 per share. The Preferred Stock has no voting rights except in the event of default, and when and if issued, may be issuable as a class or in series, with the number of shares and the rights, preferences and terms of each series to be fixed by the Board of Directors.

Mr. Paxton chairman of the board of directors stated the Company is now planning its first "free standing" store which, in addition to usual lines, will offer grocery and automotive services.

He reminded shareholders the Company had record sales for the month of August — 12.1 per cent higher than last year, and that the first eight months also established a new record with sales of $204,146,525, 7.9 per cent over the corresponding period in 1967. There were 502 stores in operation at August 31 compared to 509 one year earlier.

Looting By Vietnamese Troops Rises Significantly

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Looting by Vietnamese troops, especially by some elite units, appears to have increased significantly in recent months, further alienating the army from those it is sworn to protect.

Since the war began Vietnamese troops have stolen chickens, pigs and other food to supplement meager field rations. Now some units spend a good part of their time in the field systematically taking anything of value from whatever homes they come across. Recently a Vietnamese marine battalion operating on the fringe of a provincial capital in strongly pro-government suburb looted the village chief's home while the official stood by helplessly.

Those who have watched the Vietnamese troops in action for a number of years date the beginning of serious looting—as opposed to stealing food—to the Tet offensive, when the war moved into the cities. Troops from peasant homes got a good look at the way Vietnamese were living in urban areas and decided to raise their own standard of living a bit.

The looted village chief told a reporter in English, "They are just poor soldiers and there is nothing I can do." He put up an argument when the troops tried to take his gas mask. They finally gave it back after rendering it useless by smashing out the glass eyepieces.

Looting is as old as warfare, and some American troops in the Hue fighting during Tet did their share of "liberating" such items as liquor and transistor radios.

One American adviser common soldier has always been at the bottom of the ladder here. He knows his commander is probably corrupt and even selling some of the food meant for the troops to line his own pockets. Now they figure it's their turn.

In a war where mere possession of real estate is far less important than the attitudes of the people toward their government, looting is a minus factor for a government. When soldiers in fatigues are called "green bandits," the situation is serious, a U.S. civilian adviser said.

But government soldiers are in the war until they are killed or too seriously wounded to fight again. To see the profusion of luxury goods others have amassed while they were fighting in the rice paddies is an irritant, to say the least.

At a special meeting September 23, G. C. Murphy Company Common shareholders approved overwhelmingly the proposal of the Company's Board of Directors to increase authorized Common Stock, par value $1 per share, from 8,000,000 to 12,000,000 shares and to create and authorize 3,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, par value $50 per share. Stokes Appeals For Support In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes appealed to Clevelanders in a television address Thursday night to help eliminate tensions and "to support the police and uphold the law."

"Once again our city is divided into separate camps," Stokes said in the first of a series of State of the City messages.

"I am concerned and deeply troubled by many mounting tensions," said Stokes. "... today in Cleveland, you can sense a widening of the breach between people who differ from one another."

He said most of the division "revolves around the explosive subject of law and order. And, it must be obvious to most of us that this is a direct result of the Glenville tragedy," he added, referring to the July 23 outbreak in which 10 persons—including three policemen—were shot to death.

"Only you can bring Cleveland back to the point it had reached before that tragic day of July 23 when a handful of sick, misguided men gave up on democracy and on you and me and struck out viciously in a more effective way than they could ever have dreamed was possible," said Stokes.

Crime Rate Hikes Ohio Court Costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An increasing crime rate in Ohio is boosting court costs to the point where State Auditor Roger Cloud says a half-million dollar deficiency appropriation may be needed to reimburse the counties.

The state's reimbursements to the counties are to cover court costs, including counsel fees of indigent defendants convicted of felonies.

The auditor noted these costs are closely linked with the increasing crime rate.

Cloud made the estimate of money that may be needed after monthly distribution of $131,650 to 56 counties in court costs covering August billings.

He said during the 1968 fiscal year he asked a transfer of $400,000 from the 1969 appropriation of $900,000, making a total of $1.2 million available for fiscal 1968. Of that amount, the state reimbursed the counties to the extent of $1.1 million with about half representing counsel fees.

With the current reimbursement for August bills, he said, a balance of $468,350 remains with which the state hopes to meet its obligations for the remaining 10 months of the fiscal year.

If the current average monthly requirements of $95,490 continues, a deficiency appropriation of about $170,000 will be required, Cloud said, adding it may go even higher.

WHAT BELONGS WHERE? ??

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The hub of a railroad—the classification yard. Could you, without training or experience, take charge here? Could you sort and "spot" thousands of cars, have them ready at the right time on the right track to go out with the right train?

But every day your mind performs an operation even more complex. You sort and classify your thoughts and impulses. You decide what is right and wrong. You determine which actions are urgent, and which can be deferred. You resolve that some goals are important, and others are secondary. And every decision affects your life, and the lives of others!

Preparing men and women—and boys and girls—to make the right decisions is one of the great functions of the Church. There are sound Christian standards by which life's choices should be sorted. There is confidence and strength for those who seek, learn and practice the true Way of Life.

Crime Rate Hikes Ohio Court Costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An increasing crime rate in Ohio is boosting court costs to the point where State Auditor Roger Cloud says a half-million dollar deficiency appropriation may be needed to reimburse the counties.

The state's reimbursements to the counties are to cover court costs, including counsel fees of indigent defendants convicted of felonies.

The auditor noted these costs are closely linked with the increasing crime rate.

Cloud made the estimate of money that may be needed after monthly distribution of $131,650 to 56 counties in court costs covering August billings.

He said during the 1968 fiscal year he asked a transfer of $400,000 from the 1969 appropriation of $900,000, making a total of $1.2 million available for fiscal 1968. Of that amount, the state reimbursed the counties to the extent of $1.1 million with about half representing counsel fees. With the current reimbursement for August bills, he said, a balance of $468,350 remains with which the state hopes to meet its obligations for the remaining 10 months of the fiscal year.

If the current average monthly requirements of $95,490 continues, a deficiency appropriation of about $470,000 will be required, Cloud said, adding it may go even higher.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Cheerleaders Ready To Yell Tigers To Victory

By DEBBIE HEISKELL
and MARY TOLLIVER

Leading Circleville Tigers to a victory, the CHS Varsity cheerleaders generate a great amount of enthusiasm and hope to encourage the students to join them in giving the team the backing they need.

Leading the victory yells will be Mary Gates, Vicki Ralston, Holly Bach, Debbie Smith, Joyce Ankrom and Vicki Schroeder.

Captain for this year's varsity cheerleading squad is Mary Gates. Mary resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Gates at 290 Lewis Road. She has been a cheerleader at CHS for three years. She is a member of GAA, SOS and attends St. Joseph Church. Cooking and football games are a few of Mary's extracurricular activities.

All the cheerleaders were asked what they had done to prepare themselves as a cheerleader since being chosen. Mary replied, "During the past summer I attended Valley Vista Cheerleading Camp. While at the camp I learned new and different cheers which will make a better squad this year. I have been working hard on school spirit which I feel is lacking during the week and on Friday nights. My feelings are that if there was more spirit, Circleville would have a better team and school."

Joyce Ankrom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ankrom of Route 1. She is enrolled in a college prep course. Joyce is a member of GAA and SOS. She is also a member of the Salem Methodist Church.

How has Joyce prepared herself? "From the time I was chosen in the spring until the Band Preview, there was a lot of work that goes into becoming a cheerleader. This year I went to cheerleading camp at Bainbridge. The cheers and pom pom routines were great help to me. Two weeks before the Band Preview I practiced every night." Joyce plans to attend college after graduation.

Junior cheerleader Vicki Schroeder resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schroeder at 323 Wood Lane. A member of GAA, Vicki lists cheerleading, swimming and horseback riding as her favorite activities. She is a member of St. Joseph Church and plans to attend the University of Michigan and major in mathematics.

In answering the question about preparation, Vicki replied, "Towards the end of my summer vacation I spent much of my time learning the new cheers taught to us at Camp Valley Vista and the old cheers used last year."

Debbie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, 214 Brinks Drive, is returning for her third year of cheerleading.

Debbie, an active member of SOS, GAA, and Curtain Callers, finds time for other activities such as, sewing, swimming, and making trips to Hillsboro. She attends the Lutheran Church.

Debbie's answer to the question was "since our squad attended camp this summer we have learned to work together better and develop better cheers. We worked hard all summer practicing for football and basketball seasons and we are going to make this year the best."

Holly Bach resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bach at 369 Northridge Road. She is enrolled in the college prep course.

Holly is involved in GAA, Curtain Callers, Volunteers and is vice president of MYF. She also enjoys dancing, swimming and sewing.

When questioned about preparation, Holly answered in this way, "Since June we have been planning and learning cheers. The camp we attended in July proved a unique experience and taught us many new cheering techniques. Since camp we have maintained a full schedule of practices to prepare ourselves for the Band Preview and for our coming football and basketball games."

Last of all Circleville's mascot, Vicki Ralston, Vicki, along with her brother Mark, resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ralston at 564 North Pickaway St. She has been a cheerleader at CHS for three years.

Vicki's spare time is filled with GAA and the MYF. Her main interests are dancing, cars, skiing and algebra. She would like to learn to play field hockey.

Vicki's said of her mother of preparation "This summer I worked at Camp Valley Vista preparing myself mentally for this year's cheerleading. I practiced intensively so that I could achieve perfection not only for myself but also for Circleville High School."

Band Officers Express Views On New Season

By JOE TOMLINSON and
RICK SIMS

The president of this year's band is a sandy-haired, blue-eyed bundle of energy named Nancy Benzenberg. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Varble of 526 Northridge Road. She enjoys all types of music. Her favorite instruments are the oboe and the flute, which she has played for four years.

When asked her opinion of the band she replied, "I'm really proud of our band this year. I think we have shown great improvement, thanks to Mr. O'Neil. We work hard for each performance, while showing a lot more enthusiasm than we did before."

Dave Leist, vice president of the band, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Leist of 430 Brown St. He has a brother Tim and one sister Diane.

This enthusiastic senior belongs to the Key Club, Science Club, and he also manages to work in his spare time for George Byrd.

He has played the trumpet four years. During the football games he plays "charge" on his golden horn.

In his comments on Mr. O'Neil and band he said, "Mr. O'Neil is exactly the kind of band director we need. We have a good band and improve each week. We have more depth than in the past and we have a much better sound."

Bev Thompson, secretary of band, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson of 551 E. Mound St. She has been a majorette for three years and head majorette for two years.

Through junior and senior high school she played the clarinet. When approached about band, this brown eyed brunette said, "I think everything in general is better — band formation and drill especially. Everyone is trying to improve the band. Mr. O'Neil is completely different with new ideas. We only do our best drills and formations."

Bev gives baton lessons to many pre-junior high girls. The band bus is her "favorite thing." She likes to "goof around" and talk, being a typical teenage girl.

One of the busiest girls in the high school is Valerie Valentine, treasurer of the band, who lives at 486 East Franklin St. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Valentine. She has two brothers, Don, 14, and Robbie, two and a half months old. Val has played the trumpet four years and the piano about nine or ten years. Her activities include Senior SOS, Curtain Callers, EMS, president of MYF and senior class treasurer.

Her comments on the band and new director were: "Band is much better this year. Enthusiasm has really improved along with discipline. Mr. O'Neil is a very good leader and can control the kids. He is well liked and we all have a good time. I like to support my school by being in extra-curricular activities. I take pride in my school. Mr. O'Neil makes it a challenge to go out and do better than the other band, so actually we sort of win and lose too."

This year's band librarians are Ruth Ann Rihl and Mary Beth Rhoads. Ruth lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rihl, of 1050 Sunshine St. Mary Beth resides at 1003 Lynwood Ave. with her mother Mrs. Betty Rhoads. Mary Beth plays the French horn; Ruth Ann plays the clarinet. They sort, file and pass out all marching and concert music at each practice.

They both feel the band is striving for top performances each week, and that it is really great.

Rick Sims Is Grid Captain

RICK SIMS

By DANNY SMITH

Rick Sims, captain of the football team lives with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Sims, Jr., at 120 W. High St.

Rick was elected captain by the team and has done a great job in keeping the team's morale high.

When asked his thoughts of the team, Sims replied: "Inexperience hurt the team early in the season but we have improved as a unit. I feel we have the potential to win the SCOL league for the third year." He also stated the team relies mostly on speed and quickness.

In the off-season Rick fills his time with fishing, motorcycle riding, track and baseball.

He definitely feels that the choir and band are progressing and therefore would like to have an exchange concert with another high school. He would like for the band to participate and see some band contests. In February students will be going to assemblies.

By DEBBIE HEISKELL and MARY TOLLIVER

Leading Circleville Tigers to a victory, the CHS Varsity cheerleaders generate a great amount of enthusiasm and hope to encourage the students to join them in giving the team the backing they need.

Leading the victory yells will be Mary Gates, Vicki Ralston, Holly Bach, Debbie Smith, Joyce Ankrom and Vicki Schroeder.

Captain for this year's varsity cheerleading squad is Mary Gates. Mary resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Gates at 290 Lewis Road. She has been a cheerleader at CHS for three years. She is a member of GAA, SOS and attends St. Joseph Church. Cooking and football games are a few of Mary's extracurricular activities.

All the cheerleaders were asked what they had done to prepare themselves as a cheerleader since being chosen. Mary replied, "During the past summer I attended Valley Vista Cheerleading Camp. While at the camp I learned new and different cheers which will make a better squad this year. I have been working hard on school spirit which I feel is lacking during the week and on Friday nights. My feelings are that if there was more spirit, Circleville would have a better team and school.

Joyce Ankrom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ankrom of Route 1. She is enrolled in a college prep course. Joyce is a member of GAA and SOS. She is also a member of the Salem Methodist Church.

How has Joyce prepared herself? "From the time I was chosen in the spring until the Band Preview, there was a lot of work that goes into becoming a cheerleader. This year I went to cheerleading camp at Bainbridge. The cheers and pom pom routines were great help to me. Two weeks before the Band Preview I practiced every night." Joyce plans to attend college after graduation.

Junior cheerleader Vicki Schroeder resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schroeder at 323 Wood Lane. A member of GAA, Vicki lists cheerleading, swimming and horseback riding as her favorite activities. She is a member of St. Joseph Church and plans to attend the University of Michigan and major in mathematics.

In answering the question about preparation, Vicki replied, "Towards the end of my summer vacation I spent much of my time learning the new cheers taught to us at Camp Valley Vista and the old cheers used last year."

Debbie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, 214 Brinks Drive, is returning for her third year of cheerleading.

Debbie, an active member of SOS, GAA, and Curtain Callers, finds time for other activities such as, sewing, swimming, and making trips to Hillsboro. She attends the Lutheran Church.

Debbie's answer to the question was "since our squad attended camp this summer we have learned to work together better and develop better cheers. We worked hard all summer practicing for football and basketball seasons and we are going to make this year the best."

Holly Bach resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bach at 369 Northridge Road. She is enrolled in the college prep course.

Holly is involved in GAA, Curtain Callers, Volunteers and is vice president of MYF. She also enjoys dancing, swimming and sewing.

When questioned about preparation, Holly answered in this way, "Since June we have been planning and learning cheers. The camp we attended in July proved a unique experience and taught us many new cheering techniques. Since camp we have maintained a full schedule of practices to prepare ourselves for the Band Preview and for our coming football and basketball games.

Last of all Circleville's mascot, Vicki Ralston, Vicki, along with brother Mark, resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ralston at 564 North Pickaway St. She has been a cheerleader at CHS for three years.

Vicki's spare time is filled with GAA and the MYF. Her main interests are dancing, cars, skiing and algebra. She would like to learn to play field hockey.

Vicki's said of her mother of preparation "This summer I worked at Camp Valley Vista preparing myself mentally for this year's cheerleading. I practiced intensively so that I could achieve perfection not only for myself but also for Circleville High School."

Band Officers Express Views On New Season

By JOE TOMLINSON and RICK SIMS

The president of this year's band is a sandy-haired, blue-eyed bundle of energy named Nancy Benzenberg. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Varble of 526 Northridge Road. She enjoys all types of music. Her favorite instruments are the oboe and the flute, which she has played for four years.

When asked her opinion of the band she replied, "I'm really proud of our band this year. I think we have shown great improvement, thanks to Mr. O'Neil. We work hard for each performance, while showing a lot more enthusiasm than we did before."

Dave Leist, vice president of the band, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Leist of 430 Brown St. He has a brother Tim and one sister Diane.

This enthusiastic senior belongs to the Key Club, Science Club, and he also manages to work in his spare time for George Byrd.

He has played the trumpet four years. During the football games he plays "charge" on his golden horn.

In his comments on Mr. O'Neil and band he said, "Mr. O'Neil is exactly the kind of band director we need. We have a good band and improve each week. We have more depth than in the past and we have a much better sound."

Bev Thompson, secretary of band, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson of 551 E. Mound St. She has been a majorette for three years and head majorette for two years.

Through junior and senior high school she played the clarinet. When approached about band, this brown eyed brunette said, "I think everything in general is better — band formation and drill especially. Everyone is trying to improve the band. Mr. O'Neil is completely different with new ideas. We only do our best drills and formations."

Bev gives baton lessons to many pre-junior high girls. The band bus is her "favorite thing." She likes to "goof around" and talk, being a typical teenage girl.

One of the busiest girls in the high school is Valerie Valentine, treasurer of the band, who lives at 486 East Franklin St. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Valentine. She has two brothers, Don, 14, and Robbie, two and a half months old. Val has played the trumpet four years and the piano about nine or ten years. Her activities include Senior SOS, Curtain Callers, EMS, president of MYF and senior class treasurer.

Her comments on the band and new director were: "Band is much better this year. Enthusiasm has really improved along with discipline. Mr. O'Neil is a very good leader and can control the kids. He is well liked and we all have a good time. I like to support my school by being in extra-curricular activities. I take pride in my school. Mr. O'Neil makes it a challenge to go out and do better than the other band, so actually we sort of win and lose too."

This year's band librarians are Ruth Ann Rihl and Mary Beth Rhoads. Ruth lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rihl, of 1050 Sunshine St. Mary Beth resides at 1003 Lynwood Ave. with her mother Mrs. Betty Rhoads. Mary Beth plays the French horn; Ruth Ann plays the clarinet. They sort, file and pass out all marching and concert music at each practice.

They both feel the band is striving for top performances each week, and that it is really great.

Boys Take Home Economics, Find It Interesting, Useful

Could those be boys walking into the Home Economics room every morning first period? Yes! Mingled with the girls are Calvin Hicks, Larry Boltenthouse and Rick Clark.

The tall boy in the short apron is Calvin Hicks who lives at 345 E. Main St. Calvin is taking home economics because he feels it is fun and helpful. He feels having class with girls is very interesting. He does not feel odd, but claims the girls were shocked at first.

Calvin thinks all boys should take home ec. because it may help when on their own. After he graduates he plans to go into the Coast Guard for four years. Following that term Calvin wants to open his own printing shop.

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes takes the wraps off his sophomore-studied Ohio State football team Saturday when the Buckeyes open their 1968 campaign against Southern Methodist.

Eight rookies will be in the offensive and defensive units and Hayes, embarking on his 18th season, calls his young gridders the most promising in his long career.

The pass-happy Mustangs showed an explosive offense in winning to a 37-28 triumph over Auburn last week.

But, the Buckeyes, rated a definite Big Ten title threat, are a 12-point choice to get started on a winning note.

Ohio finished fourth in the conference last year with a 6-3 record and is riding a four-game winning streak. The Bucks own a 4-1 series advantage over the Mustangs.

Only four seniors are ticketed for starting action. They are co-captain Dave Foley and Rufus Mayes at offensive tackles and co-captain Dirk Worden and Mark Stier at the linebacker spots.

The spotlight will be on quarterback Rex Kern, the much-heralded Lancaster soph who is an adept runner and good passer. Other rookies slated to open on offense are ends Jan White and Bruce Jankowski and halfback John Brockington of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Ohio, with three sophs in the defensive secondary, should get a stern test against Coach Hayden Fry's Mustangs. SMU fired 51 passes against Auburn with soph Chuck Hixson doing most of the chucking.

The Mustangs' top player is Jerry (The Jet) Levis, a split end who caught five passes last week for 100 yards. Tight end Ken Fleming nabbed nine for 83 yards while flanker Pinky Clements received six for 47.

Tailback Mike Richardson also ran for 116 yards in 17 carries which could give SMU the balance it needs to get through Ohio's rugged defensive line.

Rookie defensive backs Mike Sensibaugh, Tim Anderson and Jack Tatum are the Buckeyes who can expect to be under heavy stress trying to check the Mustang air game.

The Bucks' have one outstanding defensive back in Ted Provost, who picked off seven aerials last season.

Ohio came through fall drills in good shape and only defensive end Nick Roman, nursing a bad knee, is sidelined, perhaps for the season.

Hayes, who says he has more depth and speed in his backfield than he can last remember, takes an optimistic outlook.

The weather is expected to be bright and sunny with temperatures in the mid-60s. Ticket Director George Staten forecast an attendance near 72,000. The game starts at 1:30 p.m. (EDT).

Pickaway Am Tourney Set

The Pickaway County Amateur Golf Tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday, at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links and at the Pickaway Country Club.

Starting time will be at 8 a.m. with a shotgun start. Scoring will be done on a handicap bases and trophies will be awarded for low gross and low net.

In addition, gift certificates will be given for the first ten places in each category. The low gross winner will be recognized as the Pickaway County Amateur champion. Registrations can still be made by calling the Pro Shop at Upper Lansdowne, 983-2989.

Competition is expected to be keen with the favorites being the Helwag brothers, Steve and Bruce, from PCC and the Leatherwood father and son combination, Gale and Ron, from Upper Lansdowne.

Lunch reservations will be available at both courses and the public is invited to attend.

Chuvale Defeats Manuel Ramos

NEW YORK (AP) — George Chuvale, a winner at last in a major fight, may take on Jerry Quarry, Floyd Patterson or Buster Mathis in Madison Square Garden Nov. 14.

The durable Canadian heavyweight champion, always an attraction because of his willingness to trade punches and a loser in his important fights, was back in the limelight today on his fifth-round technical knockout of Mexico's Manuel Ramos at the Garden Thursday night.

Elks Schedule Trap Shooting

The Circleville Elks Lodge will hold a trap shoot 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Route 23 Gun Club.

Members of the Elks gun club are urged to bring a guest to the event, which will feature jackpot and practice rounds as well as the team shoot.

Pigskin Prognosticator Sees Packers Over Lions, 27-21

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit should give pro football fans a good line on Green Bay Sunday. If the Packers drop another one to a Central Division rival, they could be in real trouble.

The Lions romped over the intercepting eight passes after being left for dead in Dallas. The Packers still are wondering what hit them when the Minnesota Vikings visited Milwaukee.

New Orleans' chances of upsetting the appletart in the Century Division could depend on the outcome of their home game with St. Louis. After what has been happening to Cleveland, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, the Saints are beginning to have ideas. We're picking the Saints in an upset.

Green Bay, Chicago and Washington let us down last week but the over-all record was 10-3 on the NFL and 5-0 in the AFL. Let's try again. All games are Sunday unless otherwise indicated.

NFL
Green Bay 27, Detroit 21—Lions high on cloud nine after that Bear game but Packers are in bad mood after losing to Vikings.

Orioles Smash Tribe, 7-1; 1 Game Left

BALTIMORE (AP) — It had the looks of an unequal contest before it even started.

On one side the Cleveland Indians, hungry for a third-place finish, prepared to throw everything into the battle. On the other side an array of rookies and veterans under the colors of the Baltimore Orioles, who are solidly settled in second place.

As might be expected, the final score was lopsided, but it was the Indians on the short, 7-1, in Thursday night's second-to-last game of the season.

The Indians wind up their season here tonight, still with a chance at third place, depending on what the Boston Red Sox do against the New York Yankees.

The Indians slipped half a game behind the Red Sox on Thursday night's defeat. Boston has three games left with the Yankees.

Stan Williams, who was a doubtful starter Thursday because of a pulled muscle in his back, gave up seven hits and was charged with five of the Baltimore runs.

Williams was chased in the fourth, when the Orioles came up with four runs. Rookies Curt Motton and Dave May hit successive singles. Then, with one out, Baltimore hurler Dave McNally singled to drive in a run, and Rob Gardner replaced Williams.

Gardner walked Don Buford and struck out rookie Mike Fiore before he was replaced by Eddie Fisher, who let in three more runs.

Successive doubles by Rich Scheinblum and Tony Horton gave the Indians a run in the first, then McNally settled down and shut the Tribe out the rest of the way.

Pat Schwab Ties In Metro Open

INWOOD, N.Y. (AP) — Pat Schwab of West Orange, N.J., sank a 30-foot putt on the last hole for a four-under-par 68 Thursday and moved into a three-way tie for the halfway lead at 140 in the $10,000 Metropolitan Open Golf Championship.

Jerry Pittman, Locust Valley, N.Y., and Mike Fitchick, Westbury, N.Y., also have 36-hole totals of 140.

kings. This series among rough-est in NFL. Last year they played 17-17 tie and 27-17 game won by Packers. Bill Munson and Earl McCulloch, new pass-catch combo, will get real test from Packer pros.

Baltimore 33, Pittsburgh 14—With John Unitas still doubtful, Earl Morrall probably will be on job again. Steelers were run through the wringer at Los Angeles but aren't that bad. Teams haven't met since 1957.

Minnesota 27, Chicago 14—Time to begin to believe the Vikings and time to begin to doubt Bears' big early buildup. Much depends on Gale Sayers, who has had big days against Minnesota. Bears' passers so bad that eight were intercepted by Lions. Bill Brown of Vikings already has five TDs.

San Francisco 24, Atlanta 17—Falcons' attack still sputtering while 49ers hit stride against Cards and smeared passer four times. San Francisco won both games last year 38-7 and 34-28. It all depends on John Brodie's arm.

Dallas 35, Philadelphia 14—They split last year but Cowboys much too strong off first two games. Big bad Cowboy defense got Cleveland passer five times last week with Willie Townes in the lead. Don Meredith should be able to run Dan Reeves and Don Perkins at Eagles.

Los Angeles 27, Cleveland 14—Could be a real toughie in Cleveland.

Reds Open Last Series

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds return to begin a three-game series which closes out the season for them —and Pete Rose will tell you there's no place like home.

Hanging on to the National League batting lead by a very slim margin, Cincinnati's slugging outfielder knows that what he does best he does at home. Rose goes into tonight's action against San Francisco with a .332—and his rival, Matty Alou of Pittsburgh, carries a .3315 into Chicago.

However, Rose has hit the ball at a .344 ace at Crosley Field. The Cubs have given Alou a rough time this season, holding him to a .227 on his visits to Wrigley Field.

The Reds face Giants pitcher Bob Bolin tonight. Either George Culver or Gerry Arigo will toil for Cincinnati.

even for 30-6 beating in Playoff Bowl last winter. Rams' front four ready to feast on Frank Ryan. Nobody has scored on Cleveland in air yet but Roman Gabriel is coming off hot day against Steelers.

New Orleans 23, St. Louis 20—Upset special. Saints are dreaming big dreams after upsetting Washington. Cards not giving passer protection and offense having trouble getting on board although return of Charley Johnson as starting quarterback should help. Doug Atkins and Dave Whitsett leading New Orleans defense.

New York 33, Washington 24—

Giants top league in rushing with Fran Tarkenton their ace. Skins' running game sick but Sonny Jurgensen leading the league with six touchdown passes. Could be a track meet with Skins chasing Frantic Fran and Sonny throwing the bomb.

AFL
Kansas City 27, Miami 14 (Saturday night)—Chiefs' backfield battered with Mike Garrett, Curt McClinton and Bert Coan ailing and Len Dawson off beam. Dolphins still hurting badly but Bob Griese's passes may make it close.

San Diego 27, Cincinnati 13—Chargers should repeat earlier victory on first of three-game road trip but Bengals are all charged up with two straight wins. Gene Foster replacing injured Brad Hubbert for San Diego. Paul Brown may have some surprises rigged up for Sid Gillman return to his old campus home.

New York 31, Buffalo 17—Jets should make it three in a row as Bills still grope for answers after dropping first three. Joe Namath usually has trouble with Buffalo defense, which is coming around but Bills' rookie attack still has problems. Another big day for Jets' defense, chasing Bills' QB.

Oakland 34, Houston 21—Unlabeled Oilers can stop powerful Raiders they can be almost out of race in early season. Oakland looked tough in rolling up 95 points in two games while smearing enemy passers 11 times. Oilers in AstroDome would like to wipe out memory of 40-7 beating in 1967 title game.

Boston 23, Denver 14—Both club having trouble with offense. Broncos have only 12 points to show for two games, missing Steve Tensi badly. Jim Nance should roll in late stages unless Broncos can take some pressure off their defense.

Ohio College Grid Slate Sparkles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three Mid-American Conference games, Ohio State's opener against Southern Methodist and a backyard brawl between Cincinnati and Xavier highlight the Ohio college football program Saturday.

All Buckeye schools will see action on the 24-game card that also includes four Ohio Conference skirmishes and a rugged match between Dayton and Bowling Green.

An estimated 72,000 are expected to watch Ohio State inaugurate its season against air-minded SMU which opened convincingly last week with a 37-28 victory over Auburn.

In the Mid-Am, title favorite Ohio University runs into stiffer opposition than the Bobcats faced last week when they routed Marshall, 48-8.

Kent State, which has bowed twice, entertains the Bobcats and the Golden Flashes are eager to pull an upset. Quarterback Steve Trustdorf, who completed 18 of 33 passes for 305 yards in a losing effort against Buffalo, paces the Kent attack.

All three figures represent Kent standards but a sturdy Ohio defense could make things tough for Trustdorf. The Golden Flashes' defense, which has not sparkled, could have trouble checking Ohio's multi-talented backfield, sparked by quarterback Cleve Bryant.

Toledo (2-0), which has showed an awesome attack, catches reeling Marshall under the lights. A power failure appears Marshall's best hope for an upset.

Cincinnati, which looked good in a 10-10 tie against Texas Tech, entertains Xavier in a Queen City battle at night. The Musketeers lost their opener to Miami but rebounded against the Quantico Marines, 28-12.

Dayton (2-0) and Bowling Green (1-0) usually hook up in defensive struggles but Saturday's skirmish could be a high-scoring affair.

Dayton has whipped Kent, 24-10, and St. Joseph's (Ind.) 57-0 while the Falcons opened with a 62-8 rout of Ball State.

BG has won 10 straight from Dayton, including last year's game by a 7-0 score. Bob Madden and Bernie Kress lead the Flyers' attack while the Falcons are guided by (2) quarterback P. J. Nyitrai.

Woody Hayes Takes Wraps Off Buckeyes Against SMU

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes takes the wraps off his sophomore-student Ohio State football team Saturday when the Buckeyes open their 1968 campaign against Southern Methodist.

Eight rookies will be in the offensive and defensive units and Hayes, embarking on his 18th season, calls his young gridders the most promising in his long career.

The pass - happy Mustangs showed an explosive offense in winning to a 37-28 triumph over Auburn last week.

But, the Buckeyes, rated a definite Big Ten title threat, are a 12-point choice to get started on a winning note.

Ohio finished fourth in the conference last year with a 6-3 record and is riding a four-game winning streak. The Bucks own a 4-1 series advantage over the Mustangs.

Only four seniors are ticketed for starting action. They are co-captain Dave Foley and Rufus Mayes at offensive tackles and co-captain Dirk Worden and Mark Stier at the linebacker spots.

The spotlight will be on quarterback Rex Kern, the much-heralded Lancaster soph who is an adept runner and good passer. Other rookies slated to open on offense are ends Jan White and Bruce Jankowski and half-back John Brockington of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Ohio, with three sophs in the defensive secondary, should get a stern test against Coach Hayden Fry's Mustangs. SMU fired 51 passes against Auburn with soph Chuck Hixson doing most of the chucking.

The Mustangs' top player is Jerry (The Jet) Leivas, a split end who caught five passes last week for 100 yards. Tight end Ken Fleming nabbed nine for 83 yards while flanker Pinky Clements received six for 47.

Tailback Mike Richardson also ran for 116 yards in 17 carries which could give SMU the balance it needs to get through Ohio's rugged defensive line.

Rookie defensive backs Mike Sensibaugh, Tim Anderson and Jack Tatum are the Buckeyes who can expect to be under heavy stress trying to check the Mustang air game.

The Bucks' have one outstanding defensive back in Ted Provost, who picked off seven aeriels last season.

Ohio came through fall drills in good shape and only defensive end Nick Roman, nursing a bad knee, is sidelined, perhaps for the season.

Hayes, who says he has more depth and speed in his backfield than he can last remember, takes an optimistic outlook.

The weather is expected to be bright and sunny with temperatures in the mid-60s. Ticket Director George Staten forecast an attendance near 72,000. The game starts at 1:30 p.m. (EDT).

Pickaway Am Tourney Set

The Pickaway County Amateur Golf Tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday, at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links and at the Pickaway Country Club.

Starting time will be at 8 a.m. with a shotgun start. Scoring will be done on a handicap bases and trophies will be awarded for low gross and low net.

In addition, gift certificates will be given for the first ten places in each category. The low gross winner will be recognized as the Pickaway County Amateur champion. Registrations can still be made by calling the Pro Shop at Upper Lansdowne, 983-2989.

Competition is expected to be keen with the favorites being the Helwag brothers, Steve and Bruce, from PCC and the Leatherwood father and son combination, Gale and Ron, from Upper Lansdowne.

Lunch reservations will be available at both courses and the public is invited to attend.

Chuvale Defeats Manuel Ramos

NEW YORK (AP) — George Chuvale, a winner at last in a major fight, may take on Jerry Quarry, Floyd Patterson or Buster Mathis in Madison Square Garden Nov. 14.

The durable Canadian heavyweight champion, always an attraction because of his willingness to trade punches and a loser in his important fights, was back in the limelight today on his fifth-round technical knockout of Mexico's Manuel Ramos at the Garden Thursday night.

Elks Schedule Trap Shooting

The Circleville Elks Lodge will hold a trap shoot 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Route 23 Gun Club.

Members of the Elks gun club are urged to bring a guest to the event, which will feature jackpot and practice rounds as well as the team shoot.

Pigskin Prognosticator Sees Packers Over Lions, 27-21

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit should give pro football fans a good line on Green Bay Sunday. If the Packers drop another one to a Central Division rival, they could be in real trouble.

The Lions romped over the intercepting eight passes after being left for dead in Dallas. The Packers still are wondering what hit them when the Minnesota Vikings visited Milwaukee.

New Orleans' chances of upsetting the appercart in the Century Division could depend on the outcome of their home game with St. Louis. After what has been happening to Cleveland, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, the Saints are beginning to have ideas. We're picking the Saints in an upset.

Green Bay, Chicago and Washington let us down last week but the over-all record was 10-3 in the NFL and 5-0 in the AFL. Let's try again. All games are Sunday unless otherwise indicated.

Purdue-ND Game Tops Grid Slate

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Who's No. 1? Jack Mollenkopf says it's Notre Dame, Ara Parseghian says it's Purdue and both hope they're wrong.

The moment of truth will come Saturday afternoon when Mollenkopf and Purdue, top team in The Associated Press college football poll, invade South Bend, Ind., for the annual war with Parseghian and second-ranked Notre Dame.

"It's out of the frying pan and into the fire," Parseghian moaned after Notre Dame's convincing 45-21 rout of Oklahoma last Saturday. "They're a gifted ballclub. I don't think we can over-defend them."

"I don't think there's another college football team in the nation that can match Notre Dame on offense," wailed Mollenkopf, 44-7 victor over Virginia in the opener.

In other games involving members of the Top Twenty, ninth-ranked Nebraska is at Minnesota, ranked 17th, and No. 13 Indiana travels to Kansas, No. 12.

Elsewhere, O.J. Simpson and third-ranked California are at Northwestern, fourth-ranked Penn State entertains Kansas State, Florida, No. 5, is at Florida State and seventh-ranked Alabama hosts Southern Mississippi at Mobile. Sixth-ranked Texas is at Texas Tech and No. 8 UCLA faces Washington State at home in night contests, while Houston, rated 10th, is idle.

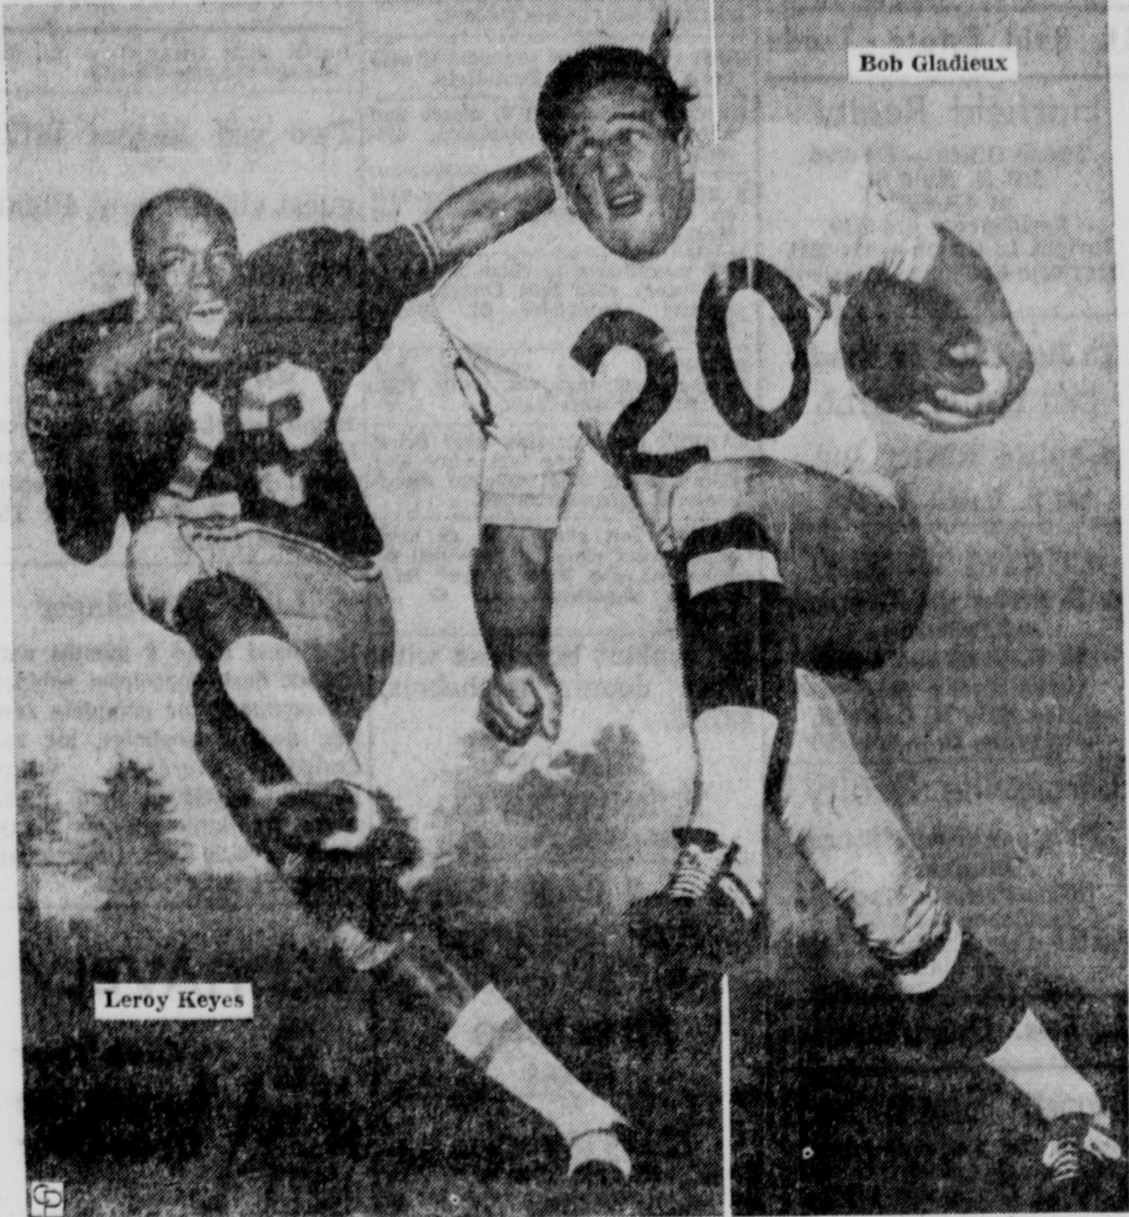

Ohio State, ranked 11th, opens its season at home against Southern Methodist, No. 15 Miami of Florida visits Georgia Tech, 16th-ranked Tennessee welcomes Memphis State, 18th-rated Oregon State is at Utah, Arizona State, No. 19 entertains Texas-El Paso and Wyoming.

Double Title Fights Slated In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World lightweight champion Carlos "Teo" Cruz of the Dominican Republic and World Boxing Association featherweight king Raul Rojas of California are favored to retain their laurels in twin-title 15-round fights tonight.

The 30-year-old Cruz, who whipped Carlos Ortiz in 15 rounds for the 135-pound division crown June 29, is an 8-5 betting choice to turn off the dream of Mando Ramos to become the first teen-ager to win the lightweight title. The Long Beach youngster will be 20 Nov. 15.

Rojas, 26, Ramos' stablemate from neighboring San Pedro, is a 6-5 favorite to reverse a 10-round decision he lost here June 6 to Sho Saiyo of Tokyo in a nontitle struggle at the Olympic Auditorium.

GO-GO BOYS FOR THE BIG ONE—Heading the rushing cast when the Purdue Boilermakers and the Notre Dame Irish clash at South Bend Saturday, Sept. 28, in the "big one" are All-American back Leroy Keyes of Purdue and Bob Gladioux of the Irish. This is the 40th meeting with the Irish on top with a record of 23 wins, 14 losses and two ties.

No. 20, is at the Air Force. Louisiana State, No. 14, visits Rice for a night game.

Purdue, led by All-American halfback Leroy Keyes, has split its last two meetings with Notre Dame and its Terry Hanratty-Jim Seymour aerial act. The Irish are a one-touchdown favorite Saturday.

"There's no question that Purdue is an offensive football team," Parseghian said. "Our defense is young and green. They yielded two quick touchdowns to Oklahoma and then seemed to settle down."

"Oklahoma was fast and quick with great team speed. Purdue is big and strong and after the game we should have a better idea whether we can go against a big, strong team."

Two years ago, Seymour caught three touchdown passes from Hanratty as Notre Dame won 26-14, although Keyes ran 96 yards with a fumble for a Purdue score. Last year, the versatile halfback passed, ran and kicked the Boilermakers to a 28-21 triumph and also played defense, holding Seymour to one completion although Hanratty threw 63 passes.

Hanratty disagrees. "I don't really think any de-

Toledo Puts 3 On IL All-Stars
ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Pennant-winning Toledo placed three players and their manager, Jack Tighe, on the International League All-Star baseball team announced today.

Columbus, which finished one-half game behind Toledo, had three players voted to the team — First baseman Al Oliver, catcher Manny Sanguillen and left-handed pitcher Dave Roberts.

fender in college football can cover Jim Seymour," he says.

"Our big problem last year was that we couldn't contain Keyes," said Parseghian. "I don't fear him nearly as much on defense as on offense. If he covers Seymour... well, Hanratty is doing a much better job this year hitting his alternate receivers."

Other top games find Tulsa at Arkansas, Vanderbilt at Army, Colorado at California, Clemson at Georgia, Baylor at Michigan State, North Carolina State at Oklahoma, North Texas State at Colorado State U., Stanford at Oregon, Iowa at Texas Christian, Kentucky at Mississippi and Texas A&M at Tulane. The last three are night games.

Tiger Frosh Battle Smith In 0-0 Tilt

The Circleville freshman football team battled visiting Chillicothe J. A. Smith to a scoreless deadlock Thursday on the Corwin St. gridiron.

Circleville's deepest penetration of the game was to the Chillicothe 25 yard line where the little Tigers fumbled and lost the ball.

The Tigers stopped one drive at the 25-yard line where Mike Hamrick intercepted a pass and another drive at the 10-yard line where a fumble was recovered by Circleville.

Most of the game was played within the 30 yard markers according to freshman coach Danny Fouts.

CIRCLEVILLE intercepted the one pass, recovered two fumbles and completed one of two pass attempts.

Chillicothe Smith completed one of six pass attempts.

"Our offense was in slow motion, but we did a good job defensively," Fouts said of the game.

There are 33 kids out for the freshman team. Offensive starters include:

Defensively, the starters are: Allison, middle guard; Davey and Neal, tackles; Dave Temple, Kent Wolfe and Iain Griffey, ends; Mike Chelkowski, Blankenship and Tom Shea cornerbacks; Speakman and Hamrick, safetys; Valentine and Fowler, interior line-backers.

The next game for the freshmen is 4 p.m. Tuesday when Chillicothe Mt. Logan will visit the Corwin St. field.

Struggles For 3rd Place Highlight AL, NL Action

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
St. Louis and Detroit go through their final World Series tuneups as baseball's regular season draws to a close this weekend with a batting title and several positions in the standings up for grabs.

In the National League, Cincinnati's Pete Rose and Pittsburgh's Matty Alou move into their final three games tied for the batting lead at .332. The Reds are at home for a three-game series with San Francisco while the Pirates close the schedule with three in Chicago.

In addition to the batting race, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh are involved in a four-team battle for third place. The Reds occupy that spot going into the final weekend but are only one game ahead of Chicago and two up on Atlanta and Pittsburgh.

Lower in the NL standings, Los Angeles and Philadelphia are tied for seventh place and New York has a one-game lead over Houston in the battle to avoid a cellar finish.

The Phillies are at New York, Los Angeles at Atlanta and Houston at St. Louis to finish the season.

In the American League, Boston holds a one-half game edge over Cleveland in the battle for third place after the Indians absorbed a 7-1 whipping from Baltimore in the only game played Thursday.

Crosley Field Appraisal Sought

CINCINNATI (AP) — Attorneys for the city filed an appropriations suit in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Thursday, asking that a jury be empaneled to determine the market value of Crosley Field, home of the Cincinnati Reds.

City appraisers show that the property is worth $1.75 million. The city, however, agreed last year to pay $2 million for Crosley Field when the Reds signed a 40-year-old lease for use of the riverfront stadium now under construction.

Crosley Field is owned by 617 Vine, Inc.

Dave McNally won his 22nd with a six-hitter and contributed two hits, driving in one run and scoring two.

The Indians, because of a cancellation against Washington last week, have only one game left to play—tonight against Baltimore—while the Red Sox have three left against New York.

APG Is Given Boost In War Against PGA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Re-belling tour players of the new American Professional Golfers Association get a boost in their war with the Professional Golfers Association. The tournament director of five major stops in 1969, with combined purses of $700,000, announced his sponsors were boarding the APG bandwagon.

Paul C. Warren, the director, said sponsors "have indicated complete support and their desire and intention to contract with the newly formed APG at such time that they might be permitted to do so."

Warren, a tournament impresario from Cleveland, issued the statement here. He is vacationing at nearby La Costa.

The 1969 tournaments involved, Warren said, are the Atlanta and Philadelphia classics and the Florida Citrus, Jacksonville and Cleveland opens.

NEW POLYGLAS™ TIRE FIGHTS SQUIRM ...Gives up to DOUBLE THE MILEAGE OF OUR BEST SELLING TIRES!

GOOD YEAR CUSTOM WIDE TREAD!

Priced as low as...

D70-14 tubeless white or red stripe plus $1.96 Fed. Ex. Tax and old tire. Sizes to fit most cars in stock now!

Two plies of giant-size "Vytacord" Polyester Cord
For the smooth, no-hump ride of rayon combined with the strength and durability of nylon. Vytacord—polyester cord specifically developed for tires.

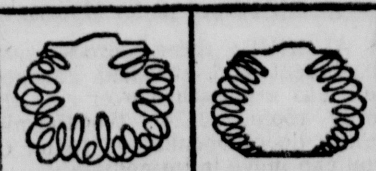

Two belts of Fiberglass Cord
Holds the tread firm on the road...resists squirm...reduces rub-off wear...improves mileage. Pound for pound, fiberglass is stronger than steel—extra protection against bruise damage in the crown area.

Low Profile Design
Utilizes the same type low, broad characteristics of racing tires to produce greater stability and better steering control in the turns and on curves.

Wider Tread
Up to 2" wider than conventional tires—puts more rubber on the road for sure-footed stops and starts on wet or dry pavements.

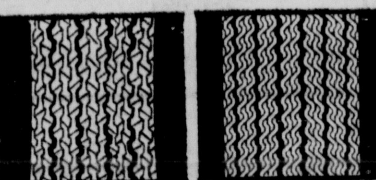

Improved "Tufsyn" Rubber
A new, improved, long-wearing Tufsyn rubber, toughest rubber Goodyear ever used in tires, adds stamina for mileage and muscular body strength.

Conventional tire parts flex under load. Tread squirms...rubs off like an eraser on paper.

The Polyglas tire sidewalls flex...but the belt plies hold the tread firm...less squirm—more mileage.

The tread of conventional tires tends to squeeze and close up under load. The gripping action of the tread loses its effectiveness.

The tread grooves of the Polyglas tire are more open...enabling the tread to grip better on wet or dry roads.

Purdue-ND Game Tops Grid Slate

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Who's No. 1? Jack Mollenkopf says it's Notre Dame, Ara Parseghian says it's Purdue and both hope they're wrong.

The moment of truth will come Saturday afternoon when Mollenkopf and Purdue, top team in The Associated Press college football poll, invade South Bend, Ind., for the annual war with Parseghian and second-ranked Notre Dame.

"It's out of the frying pan and into the fire," Parseghian moaned after Notre Dame's convincing 45-21 rout of Oklahoma last Saturday. "They're a gifted ballclub. I don't think we can over-defense them."

"I don't think there's another college football team in the nation that can match Notre Dame on offense," wailed Mollenkopf, 44-7 victor over Virginia in the opener.

In other games involving members of the Top Twenty, ninth-ranked Nebraska is at Minnesota, ranked 17th, and No. 13 Indiana travels to Kansas, No. 12.

Elsewhere, O.J. Simpson and third-ranked California are at Northwestern, fourth-ranked Penn State entertains Kansas State, Florida, No. 5, is at Florida State and seventh-rated Alabama hosts Southern Mississippi at Mobile. Sixth-rated Texas is at Texas Tech and No. 8 UCLA faces Washington State at home in night contests, while Houston, rated 10th, is idle.

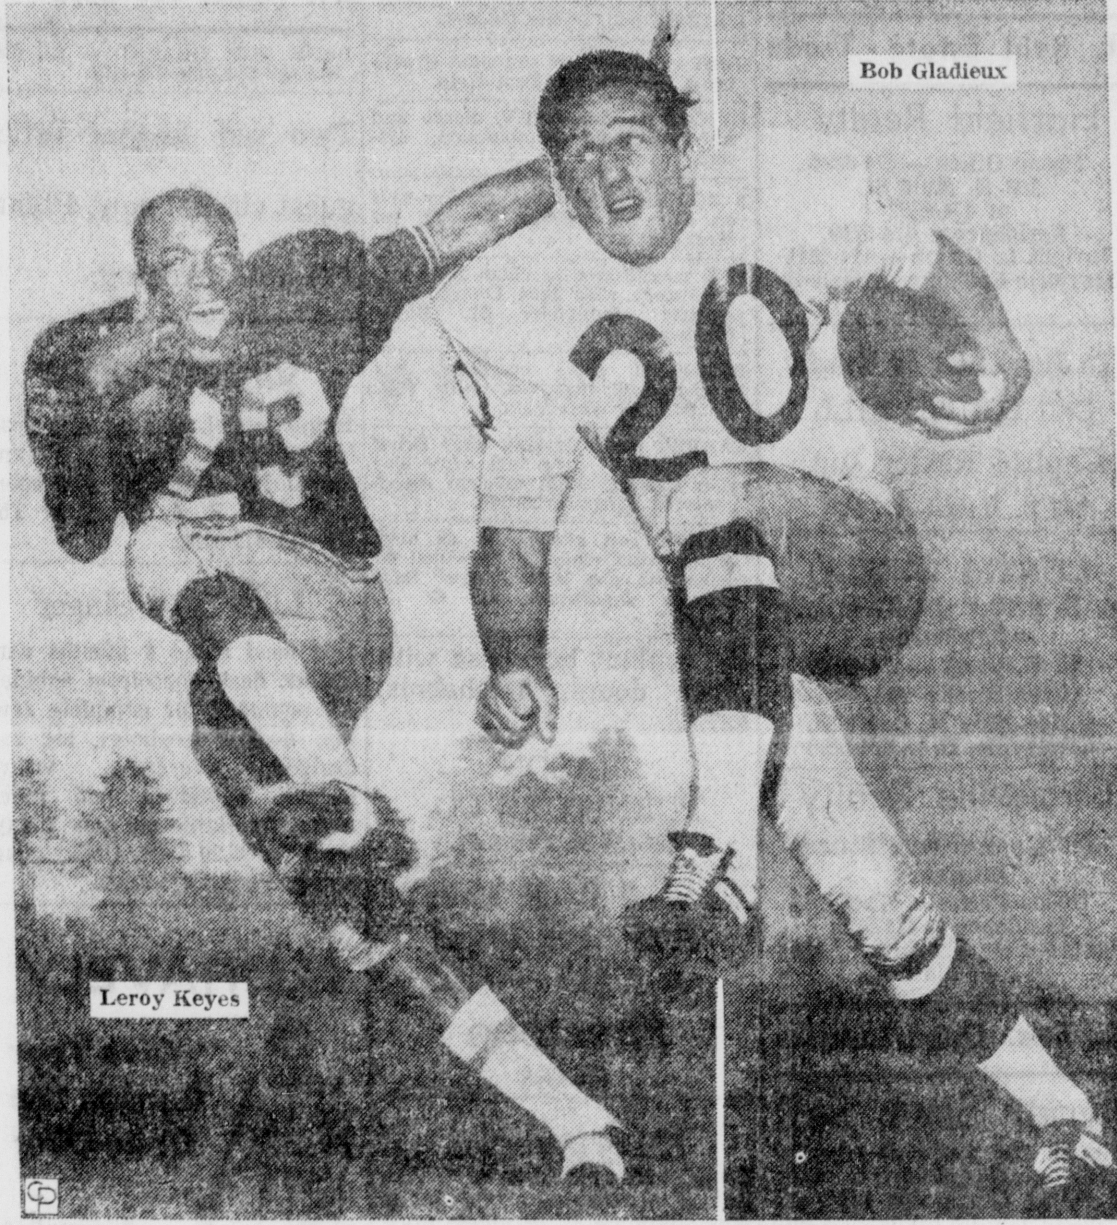

Ohio State, ranked 11th, opens its season at home against Southern Methodist, No. 15 Miami of Florida visits Georgia Tech, 16th-ranked Tennessee welcomes Memphis State, 18th-rated Oregon State is at Utah, Arizona State, No. 19 entertains Texas-El Paso and Wyoming.

Double Title Fights Slated In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World lightweight champion Carlos "Tito" Cruz of the Dominican Republic and World Boxing Association featherweight king Raul Rojas of California are favored to retain their laurels in twin-title 15-round fights tonight.

The 30-year-old Cruz, who whipped Carlos Ortiz in 15 rounds for the 135-pound division crown June 29, is an 8-5 betting choice to turn off the dream of Mando Ramos to become the first teen-ager to win the lightweight title. The Long Beach youngster will be 20 Nov. 15.

Rojas, 26, Ramos' stablemate from neighboring San Pedro, is a 6-5 favorite to reverse a 10-round decision he lost here June 6 to Sho Saijyo of Tokyo in a non-title struggle at the Olympic Auditorium.

GO-GO BOYS FOR THE BIG ONE—Heading the rushing cast when the Purdue Boilermakers and the Notre Dame Irish clash at South Bend Saturday, Sept. 28, in the "big one" are All-American back Leroy Keyes of Purdue and Bob Gladieux of the Irish. This is the 40th meeting with the Irish on top with a record of 23 wins, 14 losses and two ties.

No. 20, is at the Air Force. Louisiana State, No. 14, visits Rice for a night game.

Purdue, led by All-American halfback Leroy Keyes, has split its last two meetings with Notre Dame and its Terry Hanratty-Jim Seymour aerial act. The Irish are a one-touchdown favorite Saturday.

"There's no question that Purdue is an offensive football team," Parseghian said. "Our defense is young and green. They yielded two quick touchdowns to Oklahoma and then seemed to settle down."

"Oklahoma was fast and quick with great team speed. Purdue is big and strong and after the game we should have a better idea whether we can go against a big, strong team."

Two years ago, Seymour caught three touchdown passes from Hanratty as Notre Dame won 26-14, although Keyes ran 96 yards with a fumble for a Purdue score. Last year, the versatile halfback passed, ran and kicked the Boilermakers to a 28-21 triumph and also played defense, holding Seymour to one completion although Hanratty threw 63 passes.

"If I'm not winded, I can handle Jim one-on-one, even though he's two inches taller than I am and has great moves," says Keyes.

Hanratty disagrees. "I don't really think any defender in college football can cover Jim Seymour," he says.

"Our big problem last year was that we couldn't contain Keyes," said Parseghian. "I don't fear him nearly as much on defense as on offense. If he covers Seymour... well, Hanratty is doing a much better job this year hitting his alternate receivers."

Other top games find Tulsa at Arkansas, Vanderbilt at Army, Colorado at California, Clemson at Georgia, Baylor at Michigan State, North Carolina State at Oklahoma, North Texas State at Colorado State U., Stanford at Oregon, Iowa at Texas Christian, Kentucky at Mississippi and Texas A&M at Tulane. The last three are night games.

Toledo Puts 3 On IL All-Stars

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Pennant-winning Toledo placed three players and their manager, Jack Tighe, on the International League All-Star baseball team announced today.

The Mud Hen players selected are second baseman Dave Campbell, outfielder Bob Christian and right-handed pitcher Mike Marshall.

Tiger Frosh Battle Smith In 0-0 Tilt

The Circleville freshman football team battled visiting Chillicothe J. A. Smith to a scoreless deadlock Thursday on the Corwin St. gridiron.

Circleville's deepest penetration of the game was to the Chillicothe 25 yard line where the little Tigers fumbled and lost the ball.

The Tigers stopped one drive at the 25-yard line where Mike Hamrick intercepted a pass and another drive at the 10-yard line where a fumble was recovered by Circleville.

Most of the game was played within the 30 yard markers according to freshman coach Danny Fouts.

Circleville intercepted the one pass, recovered two fumbles and completed one of two pass attempts.

Chillicothe Smith completed one of six pass attempts.

"Our offense was in slow motion, but we did a good job defensively," Fouts said of the game.

There are 33 kids out for the freshman team. Offensive starters include:

Defensively, the starters are: Allison, middle guard; Davey and Neal, tackles; Dave Temple, Kent Wolfe and Iain Griffey, ends; Mike Chelikowsky, Blankenship and Tom Shea cornerbacks; Speakman and Hamrick, safetys; Valentine and Fowler, interior linebackers.

The next game for the freshmen is 4 p.m. Tuesday when Chillicothe Mt. Logan will visit the Corwin St. field.

Struggles For 3rd Place Highlight AL, NL Action

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Harry Riffe, who passed away three years ago today, September 27, 1965.
Gone is the voice we loved so dear,
Silent is the face we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far-forgotten to reach.
Sadly missed by her children

In memory of our beloved niece
Marilyn Ann Hennis Steele, who passed away September 27, 1965.
True was her heart, her action so kind.
Her pattern of life to those left behind.
A beautiful soul, in the garden of rest.
Tis true, what they say, God chooses
the best.
Loved and sadly missed by
Allen and Virginia Rowe

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Harry Riffe, who passed away three years ago today, September 27, 1965.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by her children

In memory of our beloved niece
Marjorie Ann Steele, who passed away September 27, 1965.
True was her heart, her action so
kind.
Her pattern of life to those left behind.
A beautiful soul, in the garden of
rest.
This true, what they say, God chooses
the best.
Loved and sadly missed by
Allen and Virginia Rowe

Expect Czech Concessions As Soviets Boost Pressure

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders continued discussions today on their coming trip to Moscow, which is expected to produce agreement on a partial withdrawal of the half million Soviet-led troops that occupy this country.

Top Communist party and government leaders met into the night Thursday and there were suggestions that the Czechoslovaks, who up to now have shown some defiance in the face of the Aug. 20 occupation, were ready to make further concessions to Soviet demands. They hope in this way to salvage as much as possible of party chief

Alexander Dubcek's liberalization drive.

National Assembly President Josef Smrkovsky told a crowd waiting for Dubcek after Thursday night's meeting that he would not be a member of the delegation to Moscow. There were reports that Soviet leaders had turned him down, objecting to his speeches to factory workers around the country.

Smrkovsky, a victim of Stalinist era purges, has taken part in all major dealings with Moscow since Dubcek took over the party leadership last January from former President Antonin Novotny, a hard-liner.

Among the reported Soviet demands was one for a purge trial of Czechoslovak "counterrevolutionaries" in order to justify Moscow's military intervention here.

The Czechoslovaks have rejected this so far but there were signs that they will not be able to withstand Moscow pressure indefinitely.

Interior Minister Jan Pelnar, in charge of the police, met with Dubcek into the night and the Soviet trial demands were presumed to be one of the topics they discussed.

While they met, one of Pelnar's deputies, Frantisek Vasek, disclosed that the Soviets were already active in the Czechoslovak secret police, whose members have so far declined cooperation with the invaders.

Columbia President Aims For Campus Communication

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The alarm went off at 3 a.m. Wednesday in the handsome home in Great Neck, Long Island. Andrew Wellington Cordier got up and started his work day as acting president of Columbia University.

The 67-year-old former diplomat sleeps later on most days — "four and five in the morning, sometimes six." The work days run from 14 to 20 hours, and Cordier is in his 35th day on the job without a day off.

"My policy," he says, "is that I'm willing to talk to anyone on campus."

"You try to talk the issues out and soften the hardened edges, cut down on the emotions surrounding the issues."

This, he says, is "the same thing exactly" as the role of an international diplomat, a role he played most notably in 1960 when he coordinated the 18,000-man U.N. force in the Congo. How does running Columbia in its crisis compare to the Congo? "About the same."

Cordier's part in the Congo crisis has been seized upon by the radical Students for a Democratic Society at Columbia, which claims that the U.N. force under Cordier brought about the murder of Patrice

Lumumba. "Pure fiction," Cordier answers.

"If you work in high administrative positions," he says, "you'll get some flak from some quarters. If you have a good conscience, if you know it isn't true, it won't affect you much."

The acting president's office, on the second floor of Low Library, overlooks the heart of the campus, where students stroll and sit on the grass, and where new bricks dot the walk, replacements for those students hurled at police during disorders last spring.

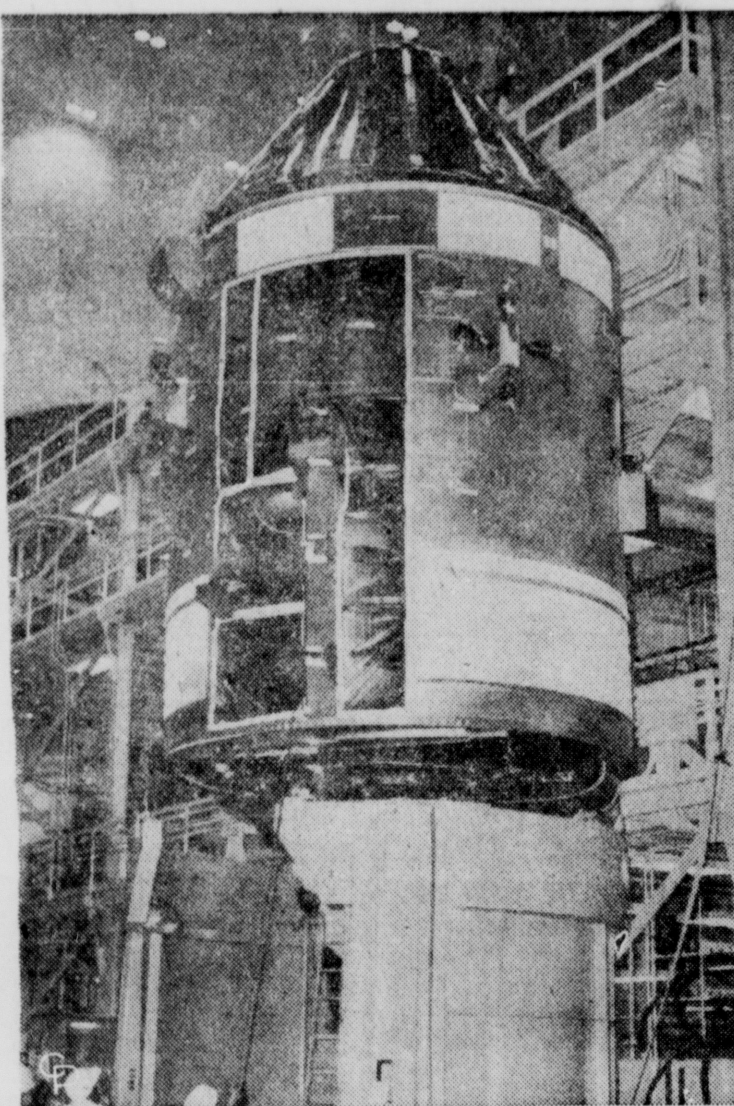

Dr. Grayson Kirk, the president then, has since retired and Cordier agreed to serve for one year until a permanent successor is found. Cordier has rolled up the blinds on the large window behind his desk and passing students can see in. "They were down before," he says.

Although he remains somewhat reserved, Cordier has

Both Saxbe, Gilligan Seek Labor's OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's two U.S. Senate candidates agreed on one thing: nominee John J. Gilligan will probably receive the endorsement today from the Ohio AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE).

Both Gilligan and his Republican opponent William B. Saxbe appeared Thursday night in closed sessions before COPE's 50-member operating committee.

The committee was scheduled to vote on its recommendation at 10 a.m. today. The full 200-member COPE committee meets here at 3 p.m. to decide which of the two candidates will get the support of big labor.

Before entering a closed session with the operating committee Saxbe said: "I came in good faith so I will not embarrass my friends in labor, but I don't have much hope of changing their minds."

After his session with the committee Gilligan said he was hopeful and optimistic of COPE's support.

Greene County Demo Demands Ballot Listing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Greene County attorney asked the Ohio Supreme Court Thursday to order his name placed on the November election ballots as Democratic candidate for county prosecutor.

Merritt E. Schlafman of Fairborn branded as "perfectly ridiculous" a state law which bars him from the ballot because he did not receive 15 per cent of the total votes cast in the May primary.

Schafman was a write-in candidate for the Democratic nomination in the primary. He was the only Democratic candidate and received 13 per cent of the Democratic votes cast.

Schafman told the court in oral arguments Thursday that he ran in the May primary after the original candidate, Nicholas A. Carrera, withdrew at the last minute. He said he did not have time to file his own nominating petitions.

not put into the House. Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky who joined the three-jet Nixon campaign entourage in Louisville, gave the GOP nominee a gloomy picture of the inroads Wallace is making into Republicans' strength in the Border States.

He noted that Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee, expected to join the Nixon tour, had said that Tennessee is up for grabs, with the race between Nixon and Wallace.

Morton said in an interview that Wallace votes in the border areas are coming out of Nixon's political hide. Nixon himself does not dispute this.

News of Wallace strength in Florida, towards which Nixon pointed his efforts with scheduled afternoon stops at Orlando and Tampa, brought no concession from the GOP nominee on the law-and-order issue on which Wallace primarily is basing his appeal for votes.

"When I speak of a stirring respect for law and order, I mean it in the very best sense every American wants," Nixon said in Louisville.

"Let us understand once and for all, law and order is not, as some contend, a code word for racism. Black Americans as well as white Americans want law and order. They want to be safe in their streets, and we're going to make them safe for all Americans."

"Beyond that we're going to provide in America what too many of us have never had, the justice, the hope that every American should have—to be able to go as far as his talents can take him."

Nixon believes this position is one that he can take in both Detroit and Atlanta. His aides say he has no intention of softening it in a bid to draw into the Republican folds voters who have gone over to the Wallace camp.

After a weekend of rest in the Miami, Fla., area, Nixon will pick up his campaign Monday with an appearance in Detroit.

Old-Time Sourdoughs Still Say Alaska's The Greatest

By ROBERT M. BURNETT
Associated Press Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Alaska still holds its spell over the sourdoughs of the gold rush days of the 1890s and the 1900s.

Meeting for their 36th annual reunion, amid tall tales, camaraderie and happy reminiscences, the old-timers from the Klondike and the Yukon seemed in full agreement today that Alaska is still the greatest place on earth.

"It's the land of opportunity," roars Heinie Snider of Wasilla.

Snider, 82, first went to Alaska in 1909 at the end of the gold rush period. He stayed to become a prosperous landholder and a member of the territorial legislature.

"It was a tough life in those days," recalls Snider. "My wife and I lived in a tent where the city of Anchorage now stands. We later bought 320 acres for $500. It took us seven years to build a house."

"Alaska has been good to us," he said. "There is unlimited opportunity there because we have the land, the water and the gas and oil resources."

"I was a tough guy in those days but that was what it took to make it in Alaska. It was the survival of the fittest," he recalls.

"When my wife was about to give birth to our son, I carried her in my arms for miles through the snow to a hospital after our dog team gave out. Our son was born 15 minutes after we arrived."

"That kind of life builds sturdy men and women. Hard work, that's the recipe for a long and healthy life," he said.

About 400 sourdoughs are expected at the reunion. Of these, about 100 will be gold rush pioneers. The remainder are children of pioneers or persons who have lived in Alaska since.

Cincy School Investigation Completed

CINCINNATI (AP) — City School Supt. Paul A. Miller said findings of an investigation into disturbances at two public schools in the Clifton Heights section would be released today.

Some 200 angry mothers presented school officials with a petition Thursday and threatened to remove their children from Hughes High School and Merry Junior High School if the disturbances continued.

The petitioners said most of the turmoil was due to fights between Negro and white students. Hughes has a 70 per cent Negro enrollment.

Miller told newsmen his staff has been investigating the complaints and "you can rest assured we won't put up with this sort of thing very long."

He said he had heard rumors of trouble at Hughes and "I want all the facts before deciding what action to take."

Two student assemblies have been called within the past week at Hughes by school officials who appealed to students to ex-who appealed to students to ex-disturbances.

Mrs. Melva Johnson said she began circulating the petition last week after her son Damon, a ninth-grade student at Hughes, was beaten by several Negro students in a school corridor.

Columbia President Aims For Campus Communication

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The alarm went off at 3 a.m. Wednesday in the handsome home in Great Neck, Long Island. Andrew Wellington Cordier got up and started his work day as acting president of Columbia University.

The 67-year-old former diplomat sleeps later on most days — "four and five in the morning, sometimes six." The work days run from 14 to 20 hours, and Cordier is in his 35th day on the job without a day off.

"My policy," he says, "is that I'm willing to talk to anyone on campus."

"You try to talk the issues out and soften the hardened edges, cut down on the emotions surrounding the issues."

This, he says, is "the same thing exactly" as the role of an international diplomat, a role he played most notably in 1950 when he coordinated the 18,000-man U.N. force in the Congo. How does running Columbia in its crisis compare to the Congo? "About the same."

Cordier's part in the Congo crisis has been seized upon by the radical Students for a Democratic Society at Columbia, which claims that the U.N. force under Cordier brought about the murder of Patrice

Lumumba. "Pure fiction," Cordier answers.

"If you work in high administrative positions," he says, "you'll get some flak from some quarters. If you have a good conscience, if you know it isn't true, it won't affect you much."

The acting president's office, on the second floor of Low Library, overlooks the heart of the campus, where students stroll and sit on the grass, and where new bricks dot the walk, replacements for those students hurled at police during disorders last spring.

Dr. Grayson Kirk, the president then, has since retired and Cordier agreed to serve for one year until a permanent successor is found. Cordier has rolled up the blinds on the large window behind his desk and passing students can see in. "They were down before," he says.

Although he remains somewhat reserved, Cordier has made communication with the students a key to his effort to defuse the Columbia situation, along with steps to ease the penalties imposed on students last spring and steps to restructure the university, a student demand.

Both Saxbe, Gilligan Seek Labor's OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's two U.S. Senate candidates agreed on one thing nominee John J. Gilligan will probably receive the endorsement today from the Ohio AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE).

Both Gilligan and his Republican opponent William B. Saxbe appeared Thursday night in closed sessions before COPE's 50-member operating committee.

The committee was scheduled to vote on its recommendation at 10 a.m. today. The full 200-member COPE committee meets here at 3 p.m. to decide which of the two candidates will get the support of big labor.

Before entering a closed session with the operating committee Saxbe said: "I came in good faith so I will not embarrass my friends in labor, but I don't have much hope of changing their minds."

After his session with the committee Gilligan said he was hopeful and optimistic of COPE's support.

Greene County Demo Demands Ballot Listing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Greene County attorney asked the Ohio Supreme Court Thursday to order his name placed on the November election ballots as Democratic candidate for county prosecutor.

Merritt E. Schlafman of Fairborn branded as "perfectly ridiculous" a state law which bars him from the ballot because he did not receive 15 percent of the total votes cast in the May primary.

Schafman was a write-in candidate for the Democratic nomination in the primary. He was the only Democratic candidate and received 13 percent of the Democratic votes cast.

Schafman told the court in oral arguments Thursday that he ran in the May primary after the original candidate, Nicholas A. Carrera, withdrew at the last minute. He said he did not have time to file his own nominating petitions.

Nixon . . .

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky who joined the three-jet Nixon campaign entourage in Louisville, gave the GOP nominee a gloomy picture of the inroads Wallace is making into Republicans' strength in the Border States.

He noted that Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee, expected to join the Nixon tour, had said that Tennessee is up for grabs, with the race between Nixon and Wallace.

Morton said in an interview that Wallace votes in the border areas are coming out of Nixon's political hide. Nixon himself does not dispute this.

News of Wallace strength in Florida, towards which Nixon pointed his efforts with scheduled afternoon stops at Orlando and Tampa, brought no concession from the GOP nominee on the law-and-order issue on which Wallace primarily is basing his appeal for votes.

"When I speak of a stirring respect for law and order, I mean it in the very best sense every American wants," Nixon said in Louisville.

"Let us understand once and for all, law and order is not, as some contend, a code word for racism. Black Americans as well as white Americans want law and order. They want to be safe in their streets, and we're going to make them safe for all Americans."

"Beyond that we're going to provide in America what too many of us have never had, the justice, the hope that every American should have—to be able to go as far as his talents can take him."

Nixon believes this position is one that he can take in both Detroit and Atlanta. His aides say he has no intention of softening it in a bid to draw into the Republican folds voters who have gone over to the Wallace camp.

After a weekend of rest in the Miami, Fla., area, Nixon will pick up his campaign Monday with an appearance in Detroit.

TRIED ON GUN CHARGE—Businessman Gary de Bell, 30, of Syracuse, N.Y., is being tried in New York City on a charge of carrying an unloaded revolver to the funeral of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. De Bell contends the charges should be dismissed because he surrendered the weapon voluntarily.

Old-Time Sourdoughs Still Say Alaska's The Greatest

By ROBERT M. BURNETT
Associated Press Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Alaska still holds its spell over the sourdoughs of the gold rush days of the 1890s and the 1900s.

Meeting for their 38th annual reunion, amid tall tales, camaraderie and happy reminiscences, the old-timers from the Klondike and the Yukon seemed in full agreement today that Alaska is still the greatest place on earth.

"It's the land of opportunity," roars Heinie Snider of Wasilla. Snider, 82, first went to Alaska in 1909 at the end of the gold rush period. He stayed to become a prosperous landholder.

"When my wife was about to give birth to our son, I carried her in my arms for miles through the snow to a hospital after our dog team gave out. Our son was born 15 minutes after we arrived."

"That kind of life builds sturdy men and women. Hard work, that's the recipe for a long and healthy life," he said.

About 400 sourdoughs are expected at the reunion. Of these, about 100 will be gold rush pioneers. The remainder are children of pioneers or persons who have lived in Alaska since.

Cincy School Investigation Completed

CINCINNATI (AP) — City School Supt. Paul A. Miller said findings of an investigation into disturbances at two public schools in the Clifton Heights section would be released today.

Some 200 angry mothers presented school officials with a petition Thursday and threatened to remove their children from Hughes High School and Merry Junior High School if the disturbances continued.

The petitioners said most of the turmoil was due to fights between Negro and white students. Hughes has a 70 per cent Negro enrollment.

Miller told newsmen his staff has been investigating the complaints and "you can rest assured we won't put up with this sort of thing very long."

He said he had heard rumors of trouble at Hughes and "I want all the facts before deciding what action to take."

Two student assemblies have been called within the past week at Hughes by school officials who appealed to students to ex-who appealed to students to ex-disturbances.

Mrs. Melva Johnson said she began circulating the petition last week after her son Damon, a ninth-grade student at Hughes, was beaten by several Negro students in a school corridor.

Expect Czech Concessions As Soviets Boost Pressure

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders continued discussions today on their coming trip to Moscow, which is expected to produce agreement on a partial withdrawal of the half million Soviet-led troops that occupy this country.

Top Communist party and government leaders met into the night Thursday and there were suggestions that the Czechoslovaks, who up to now have shown some defiance in the face of the Aug. 20 occupation, were ready to make further concessions to Soviet demands. They hope in this way to salvage as much as possible of party chief

Alexander Dubcek's liberalization drive.

National Assembly President Josef Smrkovsky told a crowd waiting for Dubcek after Thursday night's meeting that he would not be a member of the delegation to Moscow. There were reports that Soviet leaders had turned him down, objecting to his speeches to factory workers around the country.

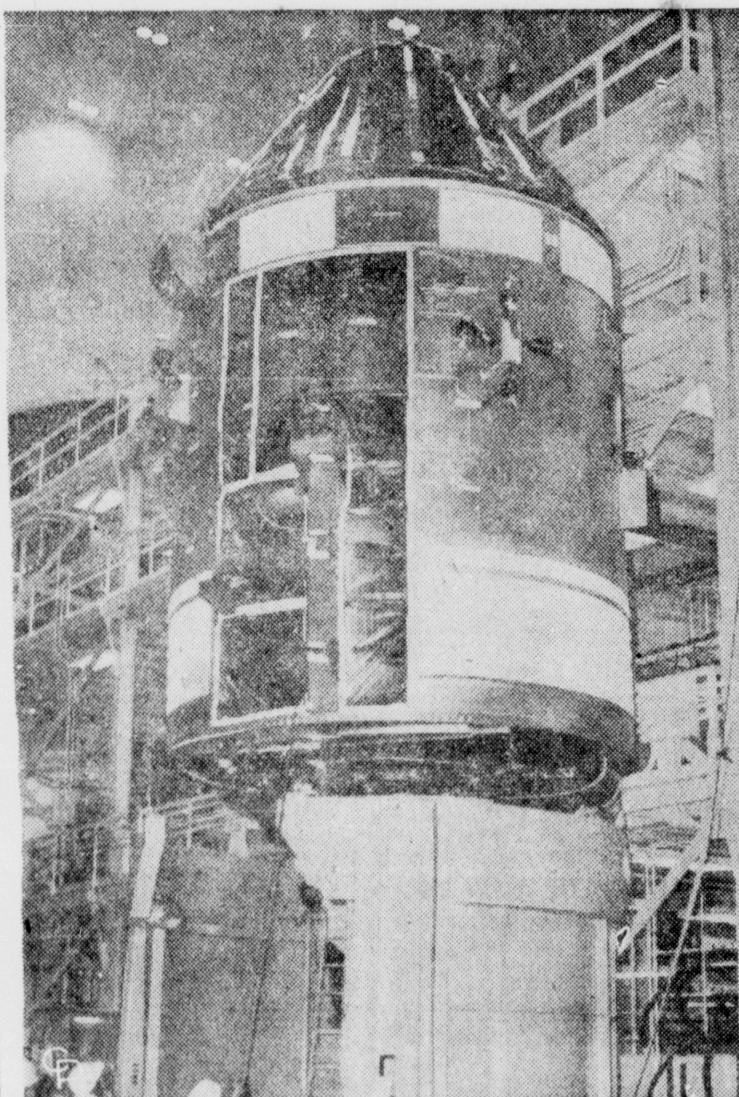

Smrkovsky, a victim of Stalinist era purges, has taken part in all major dealings with Moscow since Dubcek took over the party leadership last January from former President Antonin Novotny, a hard-liner.

Among the reported Soviet demands was one for a purge trial of Czechoslovak "counterrevolutionaries" in order to justify Moscow's military intervention here.

The Czechoslovaks have rejected this so far but there were signs that they will not be able to withstand Moscow pressure indefinitely.

Interior Minister Jan Pelnar, in charge of the police, met with Dubcek into the night and the Soviet trial demands were presumed to be one of the topics they discussed.

While they met, one of Pelnar's deputies, Frantisek Vasek, disclosed that the Soviets were already active in the Czechoslovak secret police, whose members have so far declined cooperation with the invaders.
